BUILDING 'BEES' URGED TO CURB
HOME SHORTAGELet Workers Unite,
Erect Own Homes.

O. A. Mather, financial editor of The Tribune, has outlined a suggestion aiming at the amelioration of housing problems in Chicago and vicinity. Without professing to know how workable the plan may be found, The Tribune is glad to give Mr. Mather this space to set forth his suggestion.

The plan recalls the mutual labor of rural people in earlier times, when an entire neighborhood gathered at one another's homestead for a "house raising." To some extent this same reciprocal work arrangement is in vogue now in harvest time in the country.

Editors of The Tribune.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Build your own home!

At present there are about 50,000 building trades workers in Chicago. About 25,000 of this number are idle. The building industry in Chicago is almost stagnant. It is probable that about the same percentage of building trades workers do not own homes as in other trades and professions. To these building trades workers is addressed the question: Why not build your own home?

Approximately 70 per cent of Chicago's building trades workers have been idle for months. There is no good ground for believing there will be any large increase in building operations next summer. The shortage of dwellings and high rents hit the building trades workers as hard as any other class. Why cannot these builders build for themselves, emancipate themselves from high rents, and give their families real homes? It can be done.

"Build for One Another."

First, let it be accepted as a fact that the banking institutions of Chicago have several millions of dollars available for building loans. True, they will not loan this money under present conditions, but it is available under certain conditions and at fair rates of interest. Therefore let us examine into what can be done.

Let the building trades workers organize cooperative groups and build homes for themselves. For example, a group consisting of several carpenters and masons, a plumber, a plasterer, a painter, and an electrician could agree to exchange labor hours among themselves and build homes for themselves. There would be no labor cost in finance in such a building, except a possible adjustment of differences in labor hours exchanged. Each member of the group, if now out of work, simply would be utilizing time which otherwise would be idle.

More than Half of Cost Saved.

For example, suppose each member of a group wished to build a building that now would cost $4,000. At present the labor cost would amount to about 60 per cent, or $2,400. But if these men cooperated there would be no labor cost to finance; there would be only the materials to buy. Each man could use the kind of materials he desired and buy them himself wherever he could get them cheapest. There also would be no profit to be paid to any one except the seller of materials.

One of the chief objections to building of this attitude of bankers to make the former percentage of loans on building operations safe. They will not now lend $3,000 or $4,000 to put up a $4,000 building, holding that the value of such a building is likely to drop to about $4,000 within five years, and thus they would have little or no margin of safety.

Puts Loans Within Reach.

There is no use quarreling with lenders of money on this score. But how will they loan money? If the element of financing labor cost were removed, together with that of building profits, it is probable $2,500 would supply cover the cost of materials in a building that would cost $4,000. Can this amount be borrowed? It can, and furthermore, it can be borrowed at fair rates.

Let any man come to me with a fair building proposition and he can get money," said the head of one of Chicago's largest banks yesterday. "This bank has $1,000,000 to loan for financing home building."

If any man can show us he can build a home within 25 per cent of pre-war cost, we will lend him 50 per cent of the money at 6 per cent, plus the pre-war commission of 2 per cent. In other words, a five year loan would cost him a shade under 4 1/2 per cent a year. That is a low rate for money these days.

Aged Woman
Missing; Kin
Hide Her Fate

Mysteriously missing since last July, Mrs. Nancy M. Chamberlin, 81 years old, became the object of a police investigation yesterday in a case of unusual angles. Her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Townsend, and Mrs. Townsend's daughter, Miss Marian M. Townsend, a talented pianist, have been committed by the police to the Sarah Hackett Stevenson Memorial Lodging house at 2412 Prairie avenue.

Interrogated for more than two hours last night, they steadfastly declined to say whether Mrs. Chamberlin was alive or dead. The only answer they would give was that "she is happy in love." They refused to explain the meaning of this apparently esoteric phrase. The Englewood police will question them further today.

Art Colony Is Setting.

The story's setting is in an artists' colony, some members of which are prominent in Chicago. The Townsends and Mrs. Chamberlin had occupied a three-room studio at 1546 East Fifty-seventh street since 1914. They were supported by Marian's earnings as a musician. She was graduated from the Walter Sperry School of Music in the Fine Arts building and had appeared in various recitals.

Neighbor artists knew the family in a casual way. The few who were on terms nearest approaching intimacy were Mrs. Peggy Orth, whose studio was on the east, at 1548 East Fifty-seventh street, and Mrs. Marie Prusbeck, 1550 East Fifty-seventh street. They were aware the Townsends were not in prosperous circumstances.

Aged Woman Vanishes.

Their chats with Mrs. Chamberlin ceased suddenly, however, in the middle of July. They were informed she had been called away. Mrs. Chamberlin was never again seen.

All this was disclosed last week when the Townsends were ejected from their studio for nonpayment of rent. Their furniture was removed to the rear yard. They went to a Greek restaurant in Sixty-third street, which they had formerly patronized, and refused to leave. The proprietor telephoned the Englewood police and they were committed to the memorial lodging house.

Dead or Alive? Mystery.

When policemen whose curiosity had been aroused by the neighborhood gossip visited the home last night they maintained silence to all questions. Finally Mrs. Ruth Townsend was asked point-blank:

"Is your mother, Mrs. Chamberlin, alive or dead?"

"She is well cared for in love," she replied.

"Is Mrs. Chamberlin in this world?"

"She is happy in love."

"Well, Mrs. Townsend, as there is no burial or death certificate to be found for your mother, the only alternative is to excavate in the rear yard of your bungalow."

"If you do find anything, you can't prove it's my mother's body."

"If You Do Find Bones—"

"It will be a simple matter, Mrs. Townsend, for physicians to prove it is the body of a woman."

"You can't." Her stoical calm vanished and for the first time she displayed real passion. "You can't. O, well, if you do find any bones, you'd say so anyway. If you found the bones of a dog, you would say they were those of my mother."

It matters very simply matters very much, Mrs. Townsend, if you would cooperate with us. Perhaps Mrs. Chamberlin died unexpectedly and there was not sufficient money at your disposal to pay for a funeral. The neighbors have intimated that."

"Mother is well cared for in love."

She reiterated the phrase more than fifty times.

Early this morning the women were taken into custody by Lieut. John Norton after refusing to answer his questions. They were separated in hopes one would talk.

CHURCHILL WILL RULE NEW MIDDLE EAST DEPARTMENT

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Winston Spencer Churchill, the newly appointed secretary for the colonies, announced publicly tonight what was already unofficially known, that he had been entrusted with the formation and conduct of a new "middle east department."

Mr. Churchill was taking formal leave of the principal officials of the war office, on his transfer to the colonial office, and, referring to the heavy military expenditure, explained that he was the outcome of extra commitments placed upon Great Britain by the supreme council in the maintenance of troops on the Rhine and in Constantinople and in the execution of mandates in Palestine and Mesopotamia, which had thrown heavy additional expenses on the army estimates, a large portion of which would in the near future fall to him through the new middle east department.

He proposed, when the machinery was created in a few months' time, to ask parliament for a vote giving him the responsibility and permitting him to bear the burden. He proposed to relieve the army department of the vague, indefinite, and formidable expenses with which it was burdened in consequence of these extraneous and novel commitments. He hoped to lighten the taxpayer's burden by reducing these commitments and bringing these regions mentioned into a less extravagant condition than now.

AUTO SPEEDWAY IS PLANNED FOR NORTH SHORE

A new roadway along the north shore to relieve the present congested condition of vehicle traffic, is being planned, according to H. H. Sherer, business manager of Glenview and head of the township highway commission of New Trier township. The new roadway will be a joy to those with a desire to "step on the gas" as no limit will be placed on speed.

We propose a new roadway through the Skokie valley, Forest Preserve district, along the Green Bay road, through the valley west of the north shore towns, with connections with other villages along the highway," Mr. Sherer said.

"The route is away from the beaten path, where few if any children will get into trouble. The speedway will be built so that it will connect with the highway to Fox Lake."

Harding Does Not Think
He Is Income Tax Exempt

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—President Elect Harding today informed Representative Longworth of Ohio that he did not believe he should be granted exemption from paying an income tax on his presidential salary. A bill recently was introduced to exempt the president from the income tax levy. Under the present revenue law the tax on the president's salary amounts to $15,000.

WANT TO BUY A BEAUTIFUL BANK BUILDING CHEAP?Can Be Moved to Any City in America.

Does any one anywhere in the United States want to buy a bank building? If so, he or they can buy it in Chicago, dismantle it, and ship it to any part of the country, then rebuild it at just half the present cost of a similar structure. The building is that of the Illinois Trust and Savings bank at Jackson boulevard and La Salle street, which within a year is to give place to the new skyscraper of the Illinois Merchants' Trust banking group.

The project of selling the building, rather than wrecking it, was proposed to John J. Mitchell, chairman of the directorate of the banking consolidation, by Ernest R. Graham, architect.

A Desirable Purchase.

"Any bank located in any part of the country that contemplates the erection of a building to house itself could purchase our building, with its vaults, fixtures, and the entire construction, and erect it on its own site at a saving of about 50 per cent of present construction costs," Mr. Graham stated. "Your handsome building, representing one of the finest classic designs in bank buildings in the country, would be a desirable and advantageous purchase."

Mr. Mitchell was led to reminiscences by the letter and the impending removal of the building.

"Time changes, and with them change the needs of men and institutions," he mused. "I recall the building of this banking house. We wanted to make it one of the most beautiful edifices in Chicago. The building was begun in 1912. That was during the panic, and the contractors took the job very cheap in order to keep their men at work. So it cost us about $500,000."

Granite Blocks from Maine.

"We brought the granite blocks for the walls from Maine, and also the granite monolith columns at the entrance—they weighed forty tons apiece. The cost would be prohibitive now. We imported solid San Domingo mahogany for the woodwork—we couldn't get it now."

It seems a shame to wreck such a building, which is still handsome and good for a century. We hope to see it reerected in some other city where its usefulness may be continued."

Burglar Suspect Shot;
Two Others Captured

Two alleged burglars were captured and a third is believed to have been shot last night by Detectives Swanson and Schultz in a revolver battle which began at Austin avenue and Lincoln street and ended half a block away when the two men surrendered. The third escaped by running down an alley. The two captured are Frank Finnegan of 1922 West Grand avenue and William Fitzgibbons of 4113 Thomas street. They had two suitcases containing merchandise, including a fur coat and two silk dresses.

VALENTINE DAY—ITS WEATHER—UNRIVALED FOR LAST FIFTY YEARS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—[United News.]—Mark Valentine day on your calendar as the nearest approach to a perfect day the entire United States has seen at this time of the year since 1871.

Reports from more than 200 stations showed that clear and warm weather prevailed in all except a few spots in the United States.

The fourteen days of February show that the average mean temperature has been 9 degrees above normal.

Chicago's weather yesterday was seasonably perfect—a bit colder than on Sunday but with air crystal-clear. The temperature for the twenty-four hours ranged from 35 degrees to 48 degrees. As on Sunday, the usual haze was absent at sunset, a brilliant starlight night succeeding. No important weather change impends.

TWO AUTOS HIT AND KILL MAN
ON GRAND BLVD.

James H. Gillen, 55 years old, a painter living at 419 East Forty-sixth street, died at the Chicago Lying-In hospital early this morning from injuries received when he was struck by one automobile and run over by another at Forty-seventh street and Grand boulevard.

Gillen was crossing the street when a machine driven by Louis Pfaltzer of 5548 South Park avenue struck him and knocked him down. A Western Union car, driven by Henry Halchot of 1221 West Thirty-first street, which was following Pfaltzer's car, passed over Gillen's body before it could be stopped.

American Legion to Hire
German to Clear 2 Yanks

PARIS, Feb. 14.—[By The Associated Press.]—The Paris post of the American Legion has decided to send a representative with 4,000 francs to engage a German lawyer in the hope of obtaining a release for the two Americans now under arrest in connection with the attempt to kidnap Grover C. Bergdoll, convicted deserter. The national commander of the Legion was asked by resolution of the senate to use every possible step to aid the American prisoners.

Demands Long Quarantine.

"The only possible way to prevent such cases would be quarantine all third class passengers at the port of embarkation in Europe for the period of possible incubation—fourteen days for smallpox and twenty-one days for typhus. At present the laws prevent detention for more than a few days and there are no facilities for caring for these persons."

Unjust, Italian View.

ROME, Feb. 14.—[The Italian government has been notified by the medical authorities that the hygienic conditions in Italy are normal, and that there is no infection of typhus in any of the provinces. They contend, therefore, that if any legislative action is taken to prevent the landing in the United States of immigrants from Italy, it would not be justified.

NEW YORK HAS TYPHUS DEATHS;
ASKS U. S. HELPMany of Immigrants
Disease Bearers.

New York, Feb. 14.—[Special.]—Typhus today killed two persons in New York City, the first victims here since the disease was brought into the lower bay on a steamship from Trieste two weeks ago. The deaths were the first since 1892.

James Halligan, 18, of Brooklyn, and Flicko Franchese, an Italian woman, who recently arrived in New York, died.

Young Halligan had not come in direct contact with any immigrant or other person from Europe. The lad had been around the docks in Brooklyn occasionally and probably picked up disease carrying vermin there.

Health Commissioner Copeland said there were two other typhus cases in the city. There are thirty-three other cases taken from ships to Hoffman island. Previously the federal authorities have discounted the fears of typhus entering this country.

Health Chief Protests.

Mr. Copeland, who previously called the attention of President Wilson to the danger of typhus being brought to this country by immigrants, today addressed telegrams to Secretary of Labor Wilson; Dr. Hugh S. Cumming, surgeon general of the United States public health service; Senators James W. Wadsworth and William C. Calder, and Frederick Gillett, speaker of the house of representatives.

"Fifteen per cent of the immigrants discharged from Ellis island yesterday were infected," the telegram to Secretary Wilson said. "Facilities must be provided immediately for the proper handling of immigrants."

Went To Take Such Cases.

"The New York health department cannot and will not consent to receive into this community vermin infested persons."

As the first step in fighting the disease, the public health service decided on a twelve day quarantine for ocean liners, to go into effect here within twenty-four hours.

Ships which cross in six days will be obliged to lie at anchor in the bay for six days after their arrival, before they will be allowed to land passengers.

The liner Minnesota has been placed at the disposal of the government by the International Mercantile Marine company for use as a receiving ship.

Washington to Aid.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—Federal medical authorities will probably assume charge of anti-typhus work in New York by Wednesday, Ewing La Follette, assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of public health, announced tonight. Transfer of the title of the quarantine station in New York to the government, he said, is expected within the next twenty-four hours.

INSPECTION BREAKS DOWN.

PARIS, Feb. 14.—[By The Associated Press.]—The immigration inspection service at Danzig, the largest European port of departure for American immigrants, has broken down, the United States public health service refusing to certify any one now leaving there for America. Dr. Rupert Blue, assistant surgeon general, informed the Associated Press today.

He has received messages from Dr. J. S. Linson, chief inspector at Danzig, reporting that the Poles and officials of Danzig are in a dispute over authority, which has resulted in extreme laxity of inspection.

"It is impossible to prevent the arrival of a certain number of cases of smallpox and typhus at American ports under the present European laws and facilities," Dr. Blue said in commenting on the immigration situation at New York.

Demands Long Quarantine.

"The only possible way to prevent such cases would be quarantine all third class passengers at the port of embarkation in Europe for the period of possible incubation—fourteen days for smallpox and twenty-one days for typhus. France, Italy,
Spain, May 1
Revolt Target

PARIS, Feb. 14.—[By The Associated Press.]—The overthrow of the "bourgeois" governments of Spain, Italy, and France is outlined in documents seized after a thorough search today, following the discovery of a widespread communist plot. The date fixed by the communists for this event was May 1.

The contemplated arrest of two communist members of the chamber of deputies, alleged proof against whom Judge Jouselin has delivered to M. Marraud, minister of the interior, seems to have brought the French to a realization of the importance of the attempt against the security of the state.

Latin Lands Menaced.

Discoveries made by the police of Barcelona and Milan show that the plot included the three European Latin countries. Transmission of funds was effected through an American financial organization, with European headquarters in Paris and branches in Berlin and Vienna.

The checks came from Berlin. The American company handling them, besides being interested in finance, engaged in the transportation business.

Ready to Seize Property.

Soviets have been organized throughout France, with Brest as headquarters, according to the police, ready to take over the railways, banks, and transportation, and all civil services. The plot appears to have been organized without the knowledge of M. Cachin, leader of the French communist party.

The French communist press expresses surprise that repressive measures should come from Premier Briand, "a former comrade."

L'Humanite, official organ of the French communist, is upset by the arrest of its city editor, M. Dunois, a canceled check for 20,000 francs issued in his name at Berlin being held up by the police.

HELEN MORTON ENGAGED TO WED
"BILLIE" SWIFT

A romance that has interested Chicago society for several months culminated yesterday with the announcement of the engagement of Helen Morton Bayley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morton of Lake Forest, to William E. Swift, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Swift. The wedding date has not been set, but it is expected the ceremony will take place this spring.

Mrs. Bayley, or Miss Morton, as she has preferred to be called since her divorce in 1916 from Roger Bayley of Virginia, is one of the noted horsewomen and dog fanciers of the smart set. She has also gained recognition in art circles as a sculptor. She is extremely popular in north shore and Wheaton society.

Her friends have been expecting an announcement of her engagement to Mr. Swift for some time. Their friendship is said to date from last September when she was injured in a fall from Cicopaira, one of her favorite saddle horses. He was participating in a paper chase, a mock hare and hounds race. The horse was killed.

During the war Mr. Swift was a pilot in the naval aviation service and was stationed at Pensacola, Fla.

Lazy Jaw, Not Lack of Use,
Causes Twang, Girls Told

Wellesley, Mass., Feb. 14.—Dr. Eugene C. Howe, professor of hygiene at Wellesley college, started his class of girls today by declaring that New England's traditional "Yankee twang" is due mostly to laziness of the jaw. This is not attributed to a lack of jaw exercise, he added, but to "an unaccountable failure to let the lower jaw fall far enough in articulating."

perhaps we have not jurisdiction over him so far as his rulings are concerned, we are in a sense responsible for his act.

Cites Duty of Magistrate.
"It is the business of a judge to administer the law, and it is none of his affair to inquire into the compensation that people brought before him receive. In this case, furthermore, he told the boy to go home, and said that he would send for him when he wanted him; in other words, he paroled him."

"My position in this matter is that if that kind of a procedure is to be encouraged, and encouraged from the bench, it is striking at the foundation of our government."

"Here, furthermore, we have the spectacle of a judge sitting upon the bench and at the same time acting as the chief baseball arbitrator in the United States. It is said that he draws a salary in that capacity of $42,000 a year."

"I am not complaining of his drawing that salary, and I believe I noticed in the paper Saturday where the attorney general ruled that there was no law to prevent a United States judge from engaging in business, but Mr. President, if there is no direct law to prevent it, certainly it never was expected that one holding that high and exalted position would engage in business."

"In this case the papers state today that there are 1,230 cases upon the docket for trial, and that it will take something like two years, at least two years, to get rid of them."

Won't Condemn Baseball.
"Now, we all know that if his mind is on baseball he cannot properly perform the duties of his office as judge. It is an abuse of the court and it brings the court into disrepute for a judge to accept a position of that kind. I have no harsh criticism to make of the sports of baseball. While I know very little about the game, yet it is an innocent sport, and one perhaps to be engaged in in a moderate way."

"I have not a very high regard for this professional baseball, but it is the business of a judge to stay in the courthouse and to attend to the business for which he was appointed. I stated on Saturday that I proposed to bring the matter to the attention of some friends in the house and see if we could not prefer charges against him and impeach him, and that is the course I expect to pursue."

"Not Fit to Be a Judge."

"He shows by his reply to me that he is not constituted by temperament to exercise the duties of a judge. He undertakes to abuse me. I shall not answer him in kind and belittle myself and lower the dignity of the senate by bandying epithets with a self-avowed crank and a freak like him."

"His statements in regard to my position in South Carolina are without truth in the main. It shows that he has not studied the question and that he handles the facts very loosely. He tries to abuse the people of South Carolina for working children in cotton mills, but I do not propose to be sidetracked by any argument of that point, though what he says on that line is totally out of line with the facts."

"Furthermore, he tries to attract attention to himself by saying that a few years ago he was instrumental in having a child labor law passed through congress, or words to that effect, and later the Supreme court of the United States held this to be unconstitutional, and he tried to accuse one of the mills with which I am connected with having that law upset. That is far from the fact. Nothing of that sort is true. A suit was brought to test the constitutionality of that act, but it was brought by a citizen of another state and not a citizen of South Carolina."

Writes Own Who's Who.
"Judge Landis goes on further and speaks of my possessions in South Carolina. It is not very polite for one to parade his property nor his riches, but I will say that any such denigration of this kind to bring ridicule upon a person because he has labored hard and tried to accumulate some of this world's goods, is unworthy of the bench or any other gentleman."

"If it will do the idly curious any good—if there be any idly curious—I will state that my personal means are small. I have accumulated a little of this world's goods, and I live within my income and I am able to meet my obligations."

"Judge Landis' statements about my great possessions are absolutely untrue. I only wish I had more. I might state, further, that any man who does not try to better his condition in life, to better the condition of his family, and to lay up something for their comfort, is unworthy to have a family. I take no stock in any such dirty denigration."

"Mr. President, I do not suppose it will interest the senate very much, but it may do some good to tell the young people of the country to let them know that everybody in this country is not a Shylock."

"This judge refers to me as being president of a trust company and a

JUDGE K. M. LANDIS.

REP. B. F. WELTY.
(Copyright: I. F. S.)

bank in my town, but it may surprise him to know that I organized that trust company some ten or twelve years ago, and we have made a moderate and modest success out of it.

A Labor of Duty and Love.
"I organized it for the purpose of building up my section and of helping worthy enterprises, and I have never drawn a nickel of salary out of it. That may be astonishing to Landis. I organized a bank, of which I am still president, to which he refers in the morning papers as a small institution. We made a success out of that bank. From the time it was organized until the present hour I have never drawn out of that bank as much salary in any month as this young boy was drawing. That may astonish Judge Landis."

THOMAS QUOTES BIBLE

"The senator should keep in mind the old Biblical warning," Senator Thomas interposed, "Jest not with a rude man, lest thy ancestors be disgraced."

"I am not so well versed in that Scripture, but I am glad the senator has called it to my attention," Senator Dial responded.
"Mr. President, the point I am complaining about in this judge's ruling, and one reason I brought it to the attention of the senate, is that if that judge is not a judge, he is a judicial invitation to every employe in the United States, to every bank clerk, to every person who handles other people's money and goods, if they are not satisfied with the salary which they are receiving, to take what they want. That is the most bohemian doctrine I ever heard enunciated in my life, and I say that any man who entertains these sentiments is not worthy to sit upon any bench in any country."

The Geography of a Pay Roll.

"It is not with the court to say whether or not the compensation is adequate or not. I venture to say, Mr. President, leaving out New England and the east, the north and the middle west, not one-half of the clerks in the banks of the United States draw as much as $40 per month."
"But I am not to be diverted by the main issue by getting into the question of a proper wage. This freak does not content himself with rendering his decision in the courthouse, but he hikes off on the highways and goes off somewhere to speak to the American Legion, and undertakes to turn loose his venom upon me, his misrepresentation and falsehoods, and I believe that he did it wilfully, because the statements are founded on things he could easily have verified."

Says Legion Opposes Landis.

"It is said, Mr. President, that he was applauded by the American Legion. I believe that is a vile slander upon the American Legion. I have not any idea that any soldier who ever donned the uniform and fought for his country, would applaud the sentiment of a man who upholds embezzlement."

"If they did, God pity them!"
"In this time of unrest, when there is so much lawlessness going over the country, it behooves all good American citizens, and especially the men on the bench, to preach sound doctrine and honest principles."

"Mr. President, I am about through. I have had this matter up with friends in the house. I do not know whether these charges are sufficient to impeach this man or not. But I am having them investigated thoroughly."

"I am going to call attention of the department of justice to it, to see whether or not the highest law officials of this country would approve any such sentiment.

"If they go unrebuked, then there is an example set whereby the unwary, whereby the inexperienced, may commit theft and embezzlement, and whereby, as I said before, the very foundations of our society will be endangered. I have already received a telegram from some crank trying to make a hero of that boy. So, all such doctrine should be blotted out at the earliest possible moment."

"Mr. President, those are the reasons I had for bringing this matter to the attention of the senate."

THE FORMAL CHARGES

Representative Welty's formal charges against Judge Landis, as presented to the house, follow:

"On March 3, 1917, the fifth congress passed an act which, in part, provides that:

"No government official or employe shall receive any salary in connection with his services as such official or employe from any source other than the government of the United States."

"I, therefore, impeach said Keneas M. Landis for high crimes and misdemeanors and charges said Keneas M. Landis has followed:

"First: For neglecting his official duties for another gainful occupation not connected therewith.

"Second: For using his office as district judge of the United States to settle disputes which might come into his court as provided by the laws of the United States.

"He Lobbied Against Crime."

"Third: For lobbying before the legislators of the several states of the Union to procure the passage of state laws to prevent gambling in baseball, instead of discharging his duties as district judge of the United States."

"Fourth: For accepting the position as chief arbiter of disputes in baseball associations at a salary of $42,500 per annum while attempting to discharge his duties as a district judge of the United States, which tends to nullify the effects of the judgment of the Supreme court of the District of Columbia, and the baseball gambling indictments pending in the Criminal courts of Cook county, Ill."

"Fifth: For injuring the national sport of baseball by permitting the use of his office as district judge of the United States because the impression will prevail that gambling and other illegal acts in baseball will not be punished in the open forum as of other cases."

Solon Presents Argument.

In setting the impeachment proceedings in motion, Welty said:

"I rise to a question of the highest privilege. I impeach Keneas M. Landis as district judge of the United States for the northern district of Illinois and in support of same I submit the following facts:

"That the Supreme court of the District of Columbia on the 16th day of May, 1919, entered judgment of $240,000 against the following for having violated an act of congress of the United States:

"IMPEACHMENT: THE PROCESS"

While Representative Welty is said to have "impeached" Judge Landis, technically there is no impeachment until the house formally votes charges on which a federal officer is put on trial before the senate.

In the United States the lower house impeaches and the senate is the tribunal of trial.

Article I, section 3, of the constitution follows:

"The senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the president of the United States is tried, the chief justice (of the Supreme court) shall preside; and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present. Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States; but the party convicted shall nevertheless, be liable and subject to indictment, trial and punishment, according to law."

Article 2, section 4 of the constitution provides:

"The president, vice president, and all civil officers of the United States shall be removed from office on impeachment for and conviction of treason, bribery or other high crimes and misdemeanors."

Article 3, section 1, dealing with federal judges, provides:

"The judges, both of the Supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behavior."

United States of July 2, 1890, known as the Sherman antitrust act."

Welty here named the National and American leagues and enumerated the baseball clubs comprising each. He cited how the grand jury of Cook county, Ill., returned indictments in October, 1920, against Eddie Cicotte, Joe Jackson, and other players, as well as against Abe Attell and others, for conspiring and obtaining money and goods by means of the confidence game."

Continuing, Welty said:

"While these cases still pending the baseball associations approached Judge Landis with an offer of $50,000 per annum to act as 'chief arbiter'."

"Judge Landis has done a great deal of good, but if he wants to retain confidence and respect as a judge he must divorce himself from the fleshpots of illegal combinations."

Judge Landis declined yesterday to comment on either the progress of the impeachment proceedings instituted in the house of representatives by Mr. Welty, or the speech by Senator Dial, merely observing that, in the first case, the next move was up to Mr. Welty, and in the second, his Des Moines address was a rejoinder sufficient to dispose of Mr. Dial's charges.

CALL ATTACK BY DIAL CONTEMPT AGAINST LANDIS

Two Attorneys Here Say
This Is Possible.

The Judge Landis-Senator Dial controversy took a startling turn yesterday when the opinion that the senator might be held in contempt for his attack on the judge was advanced by Attorney Harry W. Standridge, former president of the Illinois Bar association.

"Both national and state Supreme court rulings have held that an attack on a judge's action in a case where final disposition is still pending constitutes a contempt of court," Mr. Standridge said.

"Judge Landis is still to impose sentence on Francis Carey, the 19-year-old Ottawa, Ill., bank teller, who pleaded guilty to stealing $96,500. Judge Landis announced from the bench he would call the boy back at some later date."

"The senator declared on the floor of the senate chamber he would attempt to have the judge impeached. It hardly seems proper that when a judge has a sentence under consideration he should be subjected to possible intimidation by anything said by a United States senator, either on or off the floor."

Obstacle to Contempt Case.

"The constitution provides that a senator or representative shall not be questioned concerning any speech or debate held in either house. It is possible this section will operate to protect Senator Dial."

"If it is perfectly legal for any member of congress to attack a judge at any time for alleged malfeasance in a case, what is to prevent a senator or representative from attacking a judge whom he wishes to influence by threats of impeachment? Such an action coming while final judgment in a case is still pending might well intimidate 99 out of 100 judges."

Attorney Edward Mayer also criticized Senator Dial's action in criticizing Judge Landis as highly improper. He said:

"In a special way it is highly improper for a senator to try to influence a court's judgment while a case is under advisement. But no lawyer who knows Judge Landis will believe he can be influenced in any manner."

Cases in Point Cited.

Two cases were cited by Attorney Standridge to show the attitude the court has taken. He said:

"The United States Supreme court, in 'The Toledo Newspaper Company vs. the United States,' held that a published article constitutes a contempt when its direct tendency is to prevent or obstruct the free and unimpeded exercise of judicial powers."

"A ruling to the same effect was made by the state Supreme court in the case of the people against Wilson. In that case an article was published criticizing the Supreme court while the case of a man sentenced to be hanged was under consideration."

"The decision read in part: 'At the time a writ of superseas was granted in the case of the murderer, Chris Rafferty, the public was blandly assured that the matter would be examined into by the Supreme court and decided at once; that possibly the hanging of this notorious human butcher' would not be delayed for a single night."

"And the court added: 'A court will, of course, endeavor to remain wholly uninfluenced by publications like that under consideration, but will the community believe that it is able to do so? Whether the actual influence is on one side or the other, so far as it is felt at all, it becomes dangerous to the administration of justice.'"

SUSPENDED SENTENCE FOR "UNDERPAID" GIRL WHO ROBBED BRITONS

The disposition of the case of the young Ottawa, Ill., bank teller by Judge Landis recalls a similar case in a London court last fall.

A young woman, cashier for many years for a London wholesale establishment, was accused of embezzling about $10,000, the pecuniations extending over a period of several years.

The trial judge found that she had spent the money on furnishing a luxurious apartment and on fine clothing. Nevertheless, discovering that her salary was extremely small, according to his own views, he suspended sentence on the confessed embezzler, while criticizing her employers for paying this defendant a stipend which would not permit her to satisfy her normal desires for something a little above and beyond the bare necessities of life, to say nothing of the hectic cravings of the modern-day young woman for luxuries."

The editorial comment in the London papers, while generally adopting a sympathetic attitude toward the woman, seemed to disapprove of the magistrate's conduct on the grounds that some employes might accept the verdict as tacit permission to do likewise.

DUBLIN, Feb. 14.—

The western portion of the island has been blocked off for the last few days by the authorities. According to reports, which leaked through, supplies are running short in the western portion of the island.

Beyond this measure, known here as the "curfew," new regulations in restoration of order are being put into effect. Officers here are not permitted to leave their posts until the curfew is lifted.

On the south side of the island, men and boys are being arrested. Several men, artisans, marched to the gas-house road, where a few men were held. A few men were held in the barracks, the other

THE LAW IS TRUMPS

Scene as State's Attorney Crowe's raiders jammed several patrol wagons with 101 prisoners seized at 17 South Clark street in swoop on alleged gambling resort in heart of loop. — (TRIBUNE Photos.)

LOOP GAMBLING
RAID TRAPS 101;
JURY INDICTS 27Inquiry Hits Burnham,
Chicago Heights.

State's Attorney Crowe continued his drive on open vice and gambling yesterday with a series of attacks that filled the Criminal Court building with prisoners and added more than a score of cases to the court calendar.

Developments of the day included: Return raids on loop gambling resorts. The arrest of Roy Schumway as keeper and 100 men as gamblers in Mont Tennes' place, 17 South Clark street.

True bills charging gambling voted against twenty-seven of thirty-four loop gamblers netted in last Friday's raids. Among those named are Pat O'Malley, 763 South Clark street; Ed Weiss, State and Lake streets, and A. Word, cigar store magnate, 187 North Clark street.

Grand jury examination of forty-two women and scores of men taken in Sunday's vice cleanup in Burnham, preparations for the indictment of at least three famous resort keepers.

Examination of more than a dozen Chicago Heights witnesses and promise of early indictment for leaders of the alleged gambling syndicate of the suburb.

Crowe Serves Warning. "I see that some of our leading gamblers still think we are not going through with this drive," said the state's attorney after new raids on several loop resorts attacked last week brought in a regiment of prisoners. "Let them think so. It requires some effort to convince them, but the effort is certainly filling up Chicago's jail cells rapidly. We are going to press this campaign until open gambling and vice is wiped out."

Detectives under command of Chief Investigator Ben Newmark made the second charge on the loop when they were informed that several nests closed last week had reopened. Detectives under Sergeants Bahr, Murphy, and Duback went to 17 South Clark street first. After surrounding the place they battered down the doors of the "book shop" and held the keeper and "speculators" at the points of revolvers until four patrol wagons arrived.

Jury Action Backs State. The "reform jury" lost no time in backing up the prosecutor's drive. It voted true bills against practically every resort keeper taken in last week's raids before listening to the stories of the half-hundred women taken in Burnham.

The women and many of the men seized on Sunday were released following examination, but not until they had given in detail the alleged workings of the "vice machine" which has made Burnham notorious for years. The resorts closed include the Burnham Bay inn, the Perfecto Inn, and the Speedway inn.

PREMIER'S FOES
AWAIT OPENING OF PARLIAMENT

To Battle Lloyd George on Irish Policy.

BULLETIN.

DUBLIN, Feb. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—A bomb was thrown at the city hall from a passing vehicle today. The hall, which adjoins Dublin castle, was recently taken over by the military. It was not damaged.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Alleged governmental misadministration in Ireland, waste and unemployment promise to be the principal questions upon which the opposition and other elements in opposition to the government will center their attacks tomorrow as soon as the house of commons gets under way for the new session.

Of the three questions the belief prevails that the anti-government forces will center their most strenuous attacks on the Irish situation as offering the most promising material for debate.

Irish Question Leads.

This question is one which presents chances on which widespread public interest has been manifested, and it is considered certain that parliamentary questions will be asked from the opposition benches which will bring forth some of the long awaited replies from the Irish administrators.

Why has the government withheld Gen. Stuckland's report on the Cork case? will be among the first of the interrogations to be placed before the commons, it is asserted. The general's report already is said to have had the attention of the cabinet. It is authoritatively stated that the report reflects adversely on the crown forces, but that it places the initial responsibility upon the Sinn Feiners, claiming that the fires were directly attributable to the ambassador at Dillon's cross, which occurred the same day.

ISOLATE WEST KERRY

BY JOHN LESTER.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

DUBLIN, Feb. 14.—A large area in the western portion of County Kerry has been blocked off by military cordons for the last week and no communication has been allowed by the authorities. According to a message which leaked through to the trade union's secretary in Dublin today, food supplies are running low and many women and children are suffering from hunger within the area.

Beyond this message nothing is known here concerning the happenings inside the military lines.

New regulations imposed under the restriction of order act give the military officers here power to make the possession of ordinary bicycles an offense punishable by court martial.

Constable Shot Dead.

Constable Patrick J. Walsh, formerly a head constable, was shot dead by a number of armed men in Churchtown last night. Walsh was entering his own gateway when eight shots were fired at him, one of which blew his head off.

All men and boys were rounded up and arrested. Shopkeepers, professional men, artisans and others were marched to the gas works on Court-brown road, where an investigation was held. A few men were taken to the barracks, the others being released.

PRISON FOR FIREBUGS

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

DUBLIN, Feb. 14.—Three Irishmen named Neil, Kerr, and McCaughey, found guilty of connection with the recent incendiary fires at Liverpool, today were sentenced to serve ten years at penal servitude. Matthew Power, an accomplice, was sentenced to prison for two years.

A mail train from Belfast was held up by Sinn Feiners at Kares bridge, County Down, during the week end, it was reported here today. The engine driver and signal man were placed with their faces against a wall while the mail bags were rifled.

The Irish office today issued statistics on railway attacks in Ireland from July 4 to Nov. 11. Sixteen railway employees were kidnapped, two wounded, three tarred and feathered, and one handcuffed to a lamp post in Dublin, the report says.

DE VALERA TELLS SINN FEIN HOW TRUCE PLAN DIED

Declares Lloyd George Was Insincere.

BY JOHN LESTER.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

DUBLIN, Feb. 14.—The Sinn Fein officially announced today that Dail Eireann secretly met in Dublin during the last week in January and was addressed by Eamonn De Valera, "president of the Irish republic," who gave an account of the so-called Irish truce negotiations.

Mr. De Valera said that in December Archbishop Clune of Perth, Australia, was commissioned by Prime Minister Lloyd George to arrange a truce. The archbishop interviewed Irish leaders and reported to the premier on Dec. 8.

But Mr. Lloyd George's attitude, De Valera said, had been changed by action of the Galway county council and he anticipated a general breakdown of the peace movement.

Hit in Truce Plans.

"On Dec. 16," De Valera said, "truce terms tentatively were accepted by both sides, but Dublin castle added the impossible demand that the volunteers surrender their arms. This demand was backed by Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Bonar Law and Archbishop Clune refused to ask the Irish leaders to accept it."

"On Dec. 31, a wholly new proposal was put forward by the government, but Archbishop Clune would have nothing to do with it."

"Thus the whole thing ended with Mr. Lloyd George running away from the terms he himself originally suggested. The British premier was simply maneuvering for position to place Ireland in a false light."

Tells of British "Violence."

"He failed to do that, but by swamping the press with peace talk he covered up the bloody operations of his Irish Brigade, during which time they raided 8,626 homes, arrested 1,347 men and women, deported 165, wounded 72; burned 153 houses, 3 creameries, 8 factories, 24 public halls, 253 shops, 88 farmsteads, and murdered 52 Irish citizens, including one aged priest, a woman nearing childbirth, and 13 prisoners."

De Valera also heard reports from men in charge of the various "republican" departments on their activities since the last session.

De Valera also reported on his mission to the United States, but this was not included in the official statement.

WASHINGTON NEWS
—IN BRIEF—

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 14.

Senator Dial assailed Judge Landis in the senate for temporarily releasing a bank teller convicted of a $26,000 embezzlement and said he would file charges with the department of justice and take steps to effect the impeachment of the judge by the house. Representative Welby moved the impeachment of the judge.

Members of the senate judiciary committee received translations today of a statement by Andre Gardien, one of the French peace conference commissioners, stating that President Wilson promised to use his influence to bring about cancellation of America's war loans.

President Elect Harding appealed by wire to Senator Lodge and Representative Mondell for speeding up of appropriation bills to clear the way for the special session.

Attacks on the Burlington railroad's plan to issue new stock from its surplus were made before the interstate commerce commission.

Cement manufacturers asked the house ways and means committee to impose a protective duty.

Resolutions introduced by Representative Black of Texas in the house call upon the interstate commerce commission to make reductions in railroad rates.

Discussion of disarmament in the house was general today although it refused to adopt an amendment by Representative Brooks of Illinois to the naval appropriation bill which would make expenditure of $30,000,000 for building conditional upon the president's calling an international disarmament conference.

HUSBAND SCOFFS AT 'PLOT' STORY OF RICHARDSON

Denies He Consented to Dining with Wife.

Another side of the story made public yesterday morning by Frank D. Richardson, federal dry chief in Chicago, came to light last night. Mr. Richardson had charged that a "blatant plot" involving him in a divorce action had been concocted by a congressman and others interested in an illicit liquor deal. Last night Ralph A. Neger, connected with the Cable Piano company, announced he had planned—and still was considering—naming Richardson in a divorce cross bill.

At the same time the prohibition director, who fired the opening shot in the fusillade of charges and counter-charges, outlined his plan to obtain the indictment of the men who are in the whiskey ring.

Ex-Senator Lewis Retained.
A thorough investigation of Richardson's story was promised by James Hamilton Lewis, who said he had been appointed special counsel for the federal director. Washington officials had no news of the appointment last night. Mr. Richardson, in his interview on Sunday, barred alleged details of the whiskey ring's attempt to obtain a permit for the removal of $100,000 worth of liquor.

"The congressman who approached me on the matter said that my refusal to issue the permit would result in my name appearing as a co-respondent in a divorce suit," Richardson explained. He then told of his acquaintance with Mrs. Marie Neger, who lives at 208 South Harvey avenue, Oak Park, and said that in an apparent effort to backen his character detectives had trailed him when he was her companion at dinner parties.

"Had Husband's Permission."
Mrs. Neger and her husband have been separated for some time," Mr. Richardson said, "and the latter knew of my friendship for her and had given me his permission to take her to dinner."
"Since Richardson has started this talk about his friendship with my wife and has intimated that I have threatened to name him as co-respondent in her divorce suit, unless he comes through with certain illegal papers, I am going to tell the rest of the story," Neger said.

"When he says he had my permission to take my wife to dinner, lies. I never talked to Richardson in my life. The only times I have seen him are times when in company with George Friend—the latter is head of the Keystone Detective agency—I trailed him. I was so infuriated one night last fall when I saw him kissing her that I forgot myself and would have shot him had not Friend taken my gun away."

Mr. Neger laughed at the idea he had attempted to blackmail the prohibition chief. "The truth is neither I, my lawyer, A. A. Worsley, nor Mr. Friend has ever mentioned the matter to Richardson," he said. "We didn't even think he knew we intended to name him in the cross bill to the divorce suit filed by my wife." "Richardson's statements are absurd," Attorney Worsley averred. "I don't understand his motives unless he believes that by making a big noise about liquor deals he would let himself down easier if a cross bill were filed.

The reason for the delay in the filing of the cross bill, Mr. Neger said, was his desire to reach an amicable property agreement with his wife before the case reached court. Some $20,000 is involved, he said.

Substitute Cruelty Charge.
Last Friday Mrs. Neger's counsel, Attorney Charles E. Erbstein, withdrew a divorce bill then pending in which Neger was charged with infidelity and substituted one charging cruelty.

"Mrs. Neger knew her former charges would not stand up in court," Attorney Worsley said. "That is why she withdrew the first suit."
"The infidelity allegations were the result of a frameup last April," Mr. Neger said. "I was a guest in the Hotel Sterling in Washington, D. C., when one night a detective pushed a chorus girl into my room and locked the door on the outside. I have depictions on file now in court to prove the whole affair was framed to get 'something on me.'"

Both Mr. Neger and Attorney Worsley said last night the only thing that would prevent the filing of the cross bill would be the settlement of the property interests and the case out of court. Both said they were prepared to fight the case to the finish.

Lewis Defends Him.
Former Senator Lewis said the result of his investigation would be detailed to District Attorney Cline upon his return from the west on Feb. 20. "I have the utmost confidence in Mr. Richardson," he said. "He is just the man for his job and this gang will have a difficult time trying to smirch his character."

SHONTS DID OWN HOUSEWORK, IT WILL BE CHARGED

Testimony of Old Friends Asked in Will Test.

New York, Feb. 14.—[Special.]—An application was made in the Surrogate's court today for the appointment of commissioners to take testimony in other cities in the contest by Mrs. Milla D. Shonts over the will of her husband, Theodore P. Shonts, who in the will left the bulk of his estate to Mrs. Amanda C. Thomas. The application revealed the nature of the testimony to be offered in opposition to the contest. This testimony will support the contention that Mr. Shonts was justified in leaving his wife some years before his death.

Witnesses will be called to testify that Mr. Shonts had to do the housework while his wife was engaged in social duties; that she smuggled articles into this country on her return from a trip to Europe; and that she persuaded her daughters that Mr. Shonts had ceased to love them.

Estranged for Ten Years.
The commissioners whose appointment was asked by Delancey Nicolai as one of the executors and attorneys for the estate of the late traction magnate, are Roy D. Keen of Chicago, Isaac Pauch of Los Angeles, John E. Parsons Jr. of Toledo, and Earl F. Gruber of Frankfort, Ind.

The witnesses expected to be called are Joy Morton, Frank P. Blair, Ernest S. Benson, and Edward N. Fletcher of Chicago, Mrs. Georgiana McClurg and Nettie Ford of Los Angeles, Walter L. Ross of Toledo, and Mrs. Ella Shonts Pryor of Frankfort.

By their aid the executors plan to show that no undue influence was necessary to cause Mrs. Shonts to be cut off in the will, and that, for at least ten years before Mr. Shonts' death and before the will was made, the relations between Mr. and Mrs. Shonts had been estranged because of her attitude toward her husband, as the result of which a strong antipathy for his wife was said to have arisen in the mind of Mr. Shonts.

Allege Separation Agreement.
The executors said Mr. Ross, receiver of the Toledo, St. Louis and Western railroad, and for a number of years its president, would testify that Mr. Shonts complained to him during the many years they were close friends that he never had the home life for which he longed. Shonts complained that his wife insisted on living in hotels and traveling in foreign countries most of the time, apart from him, and that she did not care enough for him to pay attention to his personal needs, thinking only of the social advancement of herself and daughters. It also was said that Mr. Ross would testify that Mr. Shonts had said his wife brought him to the verge of ruin by her extravagance. Mr. Shonts was alleged to have told Mr. Ross that in making the separation agreement with his wife he had left himself free to dispose of his remaining property as he saw fit.

Compelled to Do Housework.
Mr. Morton, Chicago financier, is expected to tell of Mrs. Shonts' indifference toward her husband and to testify that in 1911 Mr. Shonts told him his fortune had been wiped out and he was $50,000 in debt because of her extravagance.

Mr. Benson, controller of the Chicago and Alton railroad, will be called to testify, the executors said, that Mr. Shonts had told him that he had led "a miserable life" with his wife when they lived in Kankakee, Ill. Later in Chicago, he said, he frequently was compelled to do the housework.

Mr. Fletcher, who lived in the same house with the Shontses at Kankakee, will be asked to tell of "violent quarrels" he witnessed.
Mr. Shonts was said to have told Mr. Blair that he was opposed to his wife's idea of having their oldest daughter, Theodora, marry the Duc de Chaulnes.

GIRL, 7, ON WAY TO SCHOOL, DIES UNDER TAXICAB

Lillian Kelokowski, age 7, 1449 West Madison street, was killed yesterday by a Yellow cab as she was on her way to the Brown school. According to witnesses, Lillian was crossing Madison street at Ashland boulevard, when the taxi struck her.

Miss Mary Richards, 32 years old, 24 East Division street, was seriously injured last night when she was struck by a Yellow cab at Broadway and Wilson avenue. T. J. Mager, 6722 South Loomis street, the chauffeur, was taken into custody.

ASKS ALL REALTY MEN TO BACK WAR ON RENT GOUGER

Davis Plan O. K.'d; 1,000 Join Tenant League.

Unanimous and unqualified endorsement of Gen. Abel Davis' plan to stop further increases in cases of tenants whose rents were "adjusted" in May was voted by the board of directors of the Chicago real estate board yesterday afternoon.

The directors, with Harry Goldstein, vice president, presiding, also called a special meeting of the 825 active members of the organization for Thursday afternoon, at which Gen. Davis will demand the support of every real estate man in Chicago.

"I am going to point out to the real estate men at their meeting that it is up to them to curb rent profiteering," said Gen. Davis. "I will tell the real estate men that now is the time for sacrifices from every branch of the building industry and especially from the landlords."

Yesterday was hailed as a gala day by officials of the Chicago Tenants Protective league, as their office on the seventh floor of the Transportation building was swamped with persons seeking membership in the organization. More than 1,000 new members were taken into the organization.

Because the crowds blocked the corridors, the league arranged to get new quarters in a vacant store on the main floor of the building. The larger headquarters will be opened this morning.

Will Not Change Court Rule.
Chief Justice Olson of the Municipal court announced that no change in the procedure of handling rent cases, as suggested by Judge William N. Gemmill, could be made until the judges of the court meet on Feb. 25. Judge Gemmill's plan is to have the chief justice assign all cases brought by rent-paying landlords to the jury calendar, where they are likely to remain a year before trial.

Judge Gemmill said: "You can rest assured that the judges of the Municipal court will vote to assign all rent cases to the jury calendar. There are thousands of persons injured by pending in the court where victims of accidents are in bed without relief, and their cases are not regarded as emergencies. Are the rent hogs any better than these unfortunate people?"

More than 100 clergymen will attend the special meeting of the city council and rent profiteering committee in the council chamber this afternoon. The meeting was called by Ald. Mulcahy, chairman, at the request of a committee of ministers and priests, who charge the continuous rental increases have disrupted their parishes and congregations.

More Complaints Received.
Complaints of tenants continued to pour into the office of J. F. Peacock, city real estate agent, Mrs. Betty Hayes, 5733 Broadway, whose rent is being raised from $45 to $55 for a four room apartment, said the landlord, A. Bergman, lives in a basement flat of the building and that previous to a health department order to furnish heat he had advised tenants to burn gas if they wanted to keep warm.

The Rev. T. C. McKnight, pastor of the Langley Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, was depicted as the "prince of rent gougers," by F. W. Gutelius, 627 Eberhart avenue. Mr. Gutelius said he was raised from $50 to $60 last May, and now the flat has been rented to others at $90.

From $65 to $90 to $125.

THE GREAT AUTO ROUNDUP

How crowds rushed to city hall yesterday to get 1921 city vehicle licenses and apply for state permits. More than 3,229 city licenses were issued during the day as result of police "drive" in loop.

Hundreds Nabbed

MOTORISTS who appeared in the downtown district yesterday without 1921 state licenses or city vehicle tags and got home without being arrested or taken to the city collector's office may consider themselves lucky.

More than a hundred automobile owners who had neglected the licenses were booked at the central station and released on cash bonds. When City Clerk James T. Igoe closed his office at night 3,229 city vehicle licenses had been issued. The clerks worked until 10 o'clock issuing hundreds more for which checks had been received by mail.

All day lines of applicants crisscrossed and wound around the pillars in the city collector's office. Hundreds had appeared for their tags on Saturday, only to find the office closed in honor of Lincoln's birthday anniversary.

The drive in behalf of state licenses was conducted on orders of Chief Fitzmorris. In addition sixty investigators under supervision of Ald. A. J. Cermak of the council revenue committee are working eight hours a day in an effort to have every vehicle in the city supplied with a city license tag before March 15.

SENTIMENT FOR NAVAL HOLIDAY SWEEPS HOUSE

But $90,000,000 Voted to Go On with Program.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—[Special.]—Sentiment for the limitation of armament practically to the point of disarmament swept unchecked and unopposed today through the house of representatives.

It was controlled only by a plea that the initial step to bring it about could come effectually only through President-elect Harding and the incoming administration, and that action at this time by congress might defeat the purpose of those most eager for it by embarrassing Mr. Harding in his plans to secure an international convention.

Butler's Dream Coming True.
"Before the harvests in the south or a my own state of Pennsylvania are ripe by congress might defeat the purpose of those most eager for it by embarrassing Mr. Harding in his plans to secure an international convention."

man Thomas Butler, house naval affairs committee. "I have lived for twenty-five years to see this cause of disarmament advanced this far."

The discussion was precipitated by Representative Brooks, Illinois, who presented an amendment to the house naval appropriations bill which provides that no part of an appropriation of $90,000,000 for the new navy building program should be expended until and after the president shall have called the world conference.

Mann Attacks Plan.
This proposal was assailed by Representative Mann, Illinois. "I could never support such a proposition," he said. "You say that we must cease all building construction on battleships until the president has assembled an international conference on disarmament, and then you release this money to put to work in feverish activity your shipbuilders, riveters, mechanics and others in building the battleships. Is it a threat, or just foolishness? I am for limitation of armaments, and I regret that I cannot so cast my vote."

The amendment was voted down by 124 members. The appropriation for the building program was upheld without a record vote.

This building program consists of ten battleships, six battle cruisers, ten scout cruisers, twenty-six submarines, and nine miscellaneous warships.

CRAZED SON ATTACKS FATHER.
A week ago Henry Kiewer, 25, of 2819 North Montello avenue, was released after examination at the psychopathic hospital, supposedly sane. Last night he became violent and attacked his father, Ludwig Kiewer, with a hammer and a milk bottle. The father was only slightly injured.

Policeman Anthony Halvorsen quizzes Vincent Schimaneck on the subject of auto licenses. More than 100 found without licenses were booked and released on cash bonds.

STOP DEPARTURE OF TROOPS FROM MINE WAR FIELD

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—Orders were issued by the war department late today to stop preparations for withdrawal of federal troops from the western West Virginia coal fields.

Senator Sutherland of that state announced after having presented to the department a request that the troops be retained there during the present trial of mine workers and others at Williamson.

Girl Tells of Battle.
Williamson, W. Va., Feb. 14.—May about the streets, she testified.

Chafin, a 17 year old telephone operator, today recited as an eye-witness events of the Matewan battle last May, in which ten men met deaths. Niece of Reece Chambers, one of the nineteen defendants, she told an exciting story of the battle in the little mountain town. Armed men ran up and down the principal streets of the Matewan, bullets rained on all sides, and men dropped in their tracks, she testified. Miss Chafin said she saw only one man use a pistol, and she fell near the railroad stations, where most of the shooting took place. This man, she said, was a Baldwin-Felts detective. She saw the bodies of six men lying about the streets, she testified.

WALLACE LAYS 'BURGLARY' IN HIS HOME TO POLITICS

Thinks Thieves Sought
His Campaign Literature

Charges by Ald. Thomas O. Wallace of the Twenty-third ward that "political burglars" attempted to enter his apartment at 2422 Orchard street Sunday night to steal his campaign literature.

"I have excellent reason to believe that the thieves were striving to steal my campaign literature to cripple my fight for reelection," Ald. Wallace said last night.

"The would-be burglars first jimmied a window in the flat of Matthias Wahlstrom on the first floor. They apparently found that they had made a mistake and then tackled a rear window in my flat, but found the fastenings too strong for them."

Draws M. V. L. Indorsement.

Ald. Wallace, who recently exposed the payment of more than $500,000 to two city real estate experts for their services in 1920, was given an unqualified indorsement yesterday by the Municipal Voters' league.

"Ald. Wallace has turned the searchlight on the $1,000,000 real estate expert business," says the M. V. L. statement. "He has kept it up until the city hall high financiers are in a panic. He has fought budget boosts and unwarranted expenditures days, nights, and Sundays. For this the city hall aggregation is aching for his defeat."

"The Twenty-third ward is the home of Mayor Thompson and of Michael J. Maherty, president of the board of legal improvements, in whose department the $1,000,000 real estate expert fees have been paid."

"Voters of the ward by electing Ald. Wallace can show their disapproval of higher budgets, higher taxes, and higher rents. It is common sense to support Ald. Wallace, who has fought extravagance at every turn."

Also Stamps O. K. on McCarthy.

The league also issued a statement in behalf of Thomas McCarthy, Third ward candidate against former Ald. William J. Lynch, the city hall enemy.

"By electing McCarthy the ward can, for the first time in many years, send to the city council a real live wire business man who has what some business men lack—a thorough knowledge of his ward and a record of activity in local public affairs."

"He has fought for the under dog politically when the under dog was the better man. He is today fighting the city hall machine and the Lynch-O'Connell organization combined."

The State Supreme court turned down the petition of George V. O'Connell for a writ of mandamus to compel the election commissioners to certify him as a candidate in the Twenty-third ward. The court declared it had no jurisdiction. The election board held that O'Connell's petition did not have the required number of signatures.

ROBBERS' VICTIMS

Michael Madden and his sister, Margaret, who were held up in their home at 1953 Maud avenue and robbed of a $500 bond, which they had saved for a burial fund.

PRIMER ON INCOME TAX CAN BE HAD AT FEDERAL BUILDING

THE TRIBUNE income tax bureau has been advised by Charles M. Calmer, chief of income tax division of the office of the collector of internal revenue, that the income tax bureau in the federal building now has on hand an unlimited supply of income tax primers.

Taxpayers are invited to call for them. Taxpayers frequently make the mistake of claiming as deductions expenditures for articles more or less permanent in character or for permanent improvements on their property. Any amounts paid out for new buildings or improvements or betterments made to increase the value of any property or estate are not deductible.

Mrs. T. B. S. asks: My husband died in August 1920. Up to the time of his death his income was less than $1,900. Please advise me what to do?

REPLY: If filing for your husband, you need not file a return as your husband's income up to the time of his death was less than $2,000.

S. L. asks: I receive a per diem allowance in addition to my regular salary. Is the per diem allowance income to me?

REPLY: If an individual receives a salary and also an allowance for meals and lodging, as, for example, per diem allowance in lieu of subsistence, any excess of the cost of such meals and lodgings over the allowance plus the ordinary expenditures required for such purposes when at home, is deductible, but any excess of the allowance over such expenses minus such ordinary expenditures is taxable income.

STEAL $500 AGED PAIR SAVED FOR 'DECENT BURIAL'

Mike Madden and his sister, Maggie, are getting along in years. Mike is 58 and his sister is 60. They are the last of the Maddens, they say.

Mike, who is employed by the Harry Gibbons Box company, has been ailing for months, and able to work only two days this year. The two have lived on the rent of two apartments where they live at 1953 Maud avenue.

Yesterday Maggie went to the bank to get a $500 Swift & Co. 7 per cent gold bond. They were in need of cash. Mike spent the day at home.

"Well," said Maggie when she had returned home with the gold bond, "here's the piece of paper I was a-savin' so we could have a decent burial."

And Maggie brushed at the corner of her eye. Mike never spoke a word.

Three Robbers Appear.

Then Maggie busied herself about the kitchen.

Suddenly three young men burst in to the room.

"Come on, hands up!" they commanded Mike. Mike's rheumatism was pretty bad yesterday. He curved his arms upward, making a wry face. Then Maggie entered. One of the men seized her and threw her on the floor. He tied a cloth over her mouth and, taking a cloth out of her apron, twisted the gag tighter.

"Not too tight," begged Maggie. "I'm short of breath."

Then the trio turned their attention to Mike.

Mike got down on his knees with difficulty, but could not lie on his face. One of the men urged, "Down, down."

"It's the rheumatism," said Mike. "I can't."

One of the men sat on his arched back. But it was stiff like a board. Then they made Mike put his head down to the floor and remain that way.

The robbers took the gold bond, a bank book, and $7 from Maggie's pocket-book.

MEAT TRAIN DESTROYED.

Decatur, Ill., Feb. 14.—Ten cars loaded with meat were demolished and eighteen others derailed when an eastbound Walsh freight was wrecked by an unknown cause as it entered Niantic, twelve miles west of here, this afternoon. No one was hurt.

SONNY DUNN HOPS FROM ONE COURT BAR TO ANOTHER

A new and ironclad indictment charging William "Sonny" Dunn with "gun toting" was returned yesterday. Dunn was arraigned before Chief Justice McDonald and pleaded not guilty to the new indictment.

Special Prosecutor Stephen Malato asked an immediate trial, but attorneys for Dr. Charles W. Clark, 7420 Clyde avenue, appeared to request a change of venue for their client, who is charged with complicity in an auto theft case in which Dunn also is a defendant.

Judge McDonald asked Judge Joseph David to hear this case at once, and Malato, who is in charge of auto theft prosecutions for the state's attorney, took charge of the Clark trial. He will begin Dunn's prosecution on the "gun toting" charge when the Clark case is ended.

The Faith that Builds Railroads

MANY New York Central stockholders own only one or two shares—a savings nest-egg. But the holder of a few shares of stock has the same satisfaction as the larger investor of taking part in the development of an important public service while providing an income for himself.

In his classic study of "Lombard Street" Walter Bagehot, the brilliant English economist, asserted that a citizen of London of Queen Elizabeth's time would have thought it no use inventing railways because he would have been unable to conceive the possibility of collecting the vast sums of capital needed for their construction.

Even Bagehot, writing only fifty years ago, probably would have been amazed by the thought of attracting the capital needed for the building and development of a thirteen-thousand-mile railroad system like the New York Central.

Now nearing a century of public service, the New York Central Lines represent a property investment of $1,720,000,000. Against this investment stocks and bonds have been issued to the amount of $1,543,000,000—that is, the actual value of the property is greatly in excess of the outstanding securities.

Scattered throughout the United States and in many foreign countries are more than 120,000 individual investors and institutions who have become partners in this great enterprise.

The number of owners of the stock of the New York Central Railroad Company, the parent company of the system, has increased by forty per cent in the past four years.

The growth of railroad facilities, to keep pace with the ever-increasing demands of American industry, depends upon a continuance of this public faith in railroads as investments, which is so strikingly shown by the widespread ownership of New York Central securities.

Science Proves the Danger of Bleeding Gums

Medical science proves that unhealthy gums cause serious ailments. People suffering from Pyorrhea (a disease of the gums) often suffer from other ills, such as rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders, or weakened vital organs. These ills have been traced in many cases to the Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about the teeth.

Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea. It begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs.

Guard your health and your teeth. Keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and make daily use of Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean. 35c and 60c tubes. All druggists.

LEAGUE OPPOSES CITY'S 8 MILLION DEFICIT BOND

Policy Ruinous, Association

BY OSCAR E. H.

The Citizens' association contends that the people's $5,000,000 bond proposition will be submitted to the voters in a statement issued by the city administration. The association says that the city is attempting to pay current expenses of the city by "shifting the burden" to the taxpayers.

The bonds are issued in the name of the city, and the city holds it will "definitely" put a premium on the waste and extravagance of another deficit year.

Raps "Amazing Extremes"

This organization urges economic as private business to do at present. By a belief that the deficit has been avoided, and it criticizes the "amazing extravagance" of the city's financial policy.

Although facing a deficit, the city administration has played a "building up" policy, and the association says it did not advise against the bond issue of $5,000,000.

defeated by the voters. The association says it is now raising $25,000,000, which will be voted in November.

Needed to Wipe Out

Then the statement issued is of an entire year. Its proceeds will be used to wipe out the public in future years, and to operate expenses that have already accrued.

According to the city's deficit at the 1920 was approximately $2,000,000. There were judgments amounting to about $2,000,000—these are the amount of the proposed bond issue.

It is a fundamental principle of sound municipal finance that the expenses of a city should be paid by the taxpayers.

Suggests Five Year Term

"Pay as you go" is a method of dealing with expenses of carrying on a business, and even if the condition is so bad as to require to violate a balance and resort to meet current expenses, it is unfair to pass the burden to the future generation in the period of twenty years.

In order to be in any circumstances to emerge should not five years.

It is virtually impossible for people to vote to authorize a bond issue Feb. 22, 1921, by the city administration, another bond issue, greater amount next year.

The association requests administration to prepare a plan for any desired future.

LEAGUE OPPOSES
CITY'S 8 MILLION
DEFICIT BONDSPolicy Ruinous, Citizens' Association Says.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

The Citizens' association "recommends that the people vote 'No' on the $8,000,000 bond proposition," which will be submitted to the voters Feb. 22. In a statement issued yesterday the association says that the policy of issuing bonds to pay current operating expenses of the city is "ruinous," and adds it is "unfair to saddle the burden on future generations."

If the bonds are issued the association holds it will "discourage economy," "put a premium on official extravagance," and create another deficit this year, for which another bond issue "will be asked."

"Amazing Extravagance." This organization urges the city to economize as private business is forced to do at present. By such a policy it believes that the deficit could have been avoided, and it criticizes severely the "amazing extravagance." In another section the association's appeal to the public reads:

"Although facing a deficit of millions, the city administration has 'lavished' more than $1,000,000 during the last year upon two individuals employed as 'building experts,' paying most of that great sum from the proceeds of the bond issues voted in 1919."

The association says it has not been its policy to oppose bond issues for needed permanent improvements. It did not advise against the proposed bond issue of $34,500,000, which was defeated by the voters April 13 last. It gave its hearty support to the bond issue for five street improvements, which was approved by the voters in November, 1919.

Needed to Wipe Out Deficit.

Then the statement continues: "The $8,000,000 bond issue now proposed is of an entirely different nature. Its proceeds will not be spent on improvements which will benefit the public in future years, but will be used to wipe out an existing deficit in operating expenses and judgments that have already accrued against the city."

According to the city authorities, the city's deficit at the end of the year 1920 was approximately $6,250,000; there were judgments outstanding amounting to about $1,250,000; and other unpaid obligations aggregating about $500,000—these items totaling the amount of the proposed bond issue.

"It is a fundamental principle of municipal finance that the practice of issuing bonds to pay current operating expenses of a city is ruinous. Any thoughtful citizen must recognize the silliness of saddling such expenses on future taxpayers."

Suggests Five Years as Limit. "Pay as you go" is the only sound method of dealing with the ordinary expenses of carrying on a city government, and even if the city's financial condition is so bad as to make it necessary to violate a basic law of sound finance and resort to a bond issue to meet current expenses, it is totally unfair to pass the burden on to a future generation in bonds covering a period of twenty years as is here proposed. In order to be defensible under any circumstances bonds for such a purpose should not run more than five years.

"It is virtually certain that if the people vote to authorize this proposed bond issue Feb. 22 they will be asked by the city administration to authorize another bond issue of an equal or greater amount next year."

The association recommends that the city administration apply to the legislature for any desired increase in revenue.

MADISON'S HOARY
KILLING MYSTERY CLEARED AT LAST

Madison, Wis., Feb. 14.—[Special.]—With the return of a report today by Dr. C. H. Bunting, pathologist, that Richard Scott Lawrence, former Denver lobbyist and principal figure in the "Lawrence murder mystery," was killed by a train in March, 1918, the mystery officially ceases to be.

Dr. Bunting's report is based upon an examination of the body made a week ago—its fourth examination since it was originally interred. Dr. Bunting declared he found no evidences whatever that the body had been tampered with since burial, as claimed by the widow, Mrs. Rachel Lawrence. The body examined by Dr. Bunting was identified as that of Lawrence.

Following the pathologist's report the county board issued an announcement that it would refuse to appropriate any further funds for the investigation of the case.

WM. F. M'COMBS
IS GRAVELY ILL

New York, Feb. 14.—William F. McCombs, former chairman of the Democratic national committee, is critically ill and expected to die at any time, his physicians announced today. He has been suffering from heart disease for many weeks at the home of his sister here.

The gravity of Mr. McCombs' illness was confirmed tonight by Frederick R. Ryan, his law partner.

Friends of Mr. McCombs said he contracted a cold at the Democratic convention in San Francisco last July, and on his return was forced to go to a sanitarium, where he has since spent most of his time.

Mr. McCombs has been known in New York politics for many years, and in 1911 entered national politics as campaign manager for President Wilson, then governor of New Jersey. He was instrumental in obtaining Wilson's nomination at the Baltimore convention.

STATE BALKS AT EXHUMING BODIES OF DAVIS COUPLESon Held as Murderer Is Willing to Make Test.

Morocco, Ind., Feb. 14.—[Special.]—Prosecutor J. C. Murphey tonight refused permission for the exhumation of the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Davis, alleged to have been murdered here before their home was burned to destroy the evidence. The refusal came as a surprise. Dr. C. E. Triplett, examining physician, had admitted a few hours before that he had made only a cursory, exterior examination of the charred bodies.

"I do not believe an exhumation will do any good," the prosecuting attorney said. "I am also of the opinion that Ralph Davis, the son, who is under indictment for the murder of his mother and father, cannot be convicted of murder. The best we shall ever be able to do, I believe, will be to find he was an accessory before the fact. Possibly several other people may be involved."

Murders, Physician Says. Dr. Triplett, in a statement before Justice of the Peace Irvin, declared he had found no evidence of gunshot wounds, but asserted he was "convinced that the old people were murdered" and that "there was no question as to that fact in his report of the examination."

The defense scored three material points today. These were: Davis' willingness to consent to an exhumation. He announced this from the Renaissance jail.

A denial by Attorney M. A. Graves that Davis forged the name of his father to a $500 note held by Graves for collection. This allegation was made yesterday.

Discovery that a greater part of the $2,500 recently spent by the younger Davis went to pay expenses of specialists who went from offices in Chicago and other cities to Renaissance to attend Davis' baby daughter.

Davis Denies Embezzlement. Davis denied he had embezzled any money from the Newton county farm organization, of which he was treasurer. He declared he had made a strenuous effort to get help for his parents, and denied lingering at a neighbor's house after giving the alarm that his parents' home was burning.

TURKEY AWAITS
HARDING VIEWS ON ASIA MINOR

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 14.—[By the Associated Press.]—Hope that allied delegates would enter the near eastern conference, to be held in London next week, with a compromising spirit was expressed here today by Abdul Medjid Effendi, heir presumptive to the Turkish throne. Only by such an attitude on their part would it be possible to establish peace in the near east, and he said it might be too late to insure an end to hostilities if the Turkish nationalists have made any military agreements with the Russian bolsheviks. He indicated that Turkey was awaiting with interest the development of the near eastern policy of President Elect Harding.

"What is most needed at the near eastern conference in London," the crown prince declared, "is common sense and moderation."

Better Linoleum Laying

Guaranteed by

The Richardson-Method

Linoleum floors are only as good as they are laid.

The Richardson-Method of cementing Linoleum securely down over a layer of special deadening felt insures a permanent floor, one that will neither buckle nor bulge, but will give added years of satisfactory service.

Advantages of Our Method:

1. The Linoleum at once becomes a solid, permanent, resilient floor. It cannot buckle, bulge or stretch.
2. The felt foundation, which is pasted to the floor, absorbs all expansion or contraction that may take place in the wood or concrete base.
3. The felt layer makes the Linoleum more durable, thereby lengthening the life of the Linoleum floor.
4. The possible damage from water when laid by other methods is eliminated when laid by the Richardson-Method.
5. It is sanitary because it is non-absorbent, easily cleaned, smooth and free from cracks.
6. Economical both in first cost and in the constant savings in maintenance expense as compared with other methods of laying and types of floors.
7. In most cases the work is completed in one trip, making it unnecessary to return and disturb the room.
8. Linoleum when laid by the Richardson-Method can be removed without difficulty or damage should the necessity arise.

Recommended—

During the past nine months we have laid thousands of yards of Linoleum by this method in

LANDIS IN HOT WATER.

When Judge Landis consented to give organized baseball a character bath he headed into criticism. For his connection with baseball to be worth anything to it in the rehabilitation of its morals, Judge Landis had to be generously exploited and seemingly he did not find that painful. In consequence he had to be more puffed about his court publicity. There is more puffed about his court publicity than about the entire federal judiciary, excluding him.

Landis frequently is more of a patriarchal arbiter and less of a federal judge. The former role is not unpleasing to him and sometimes he makes it snappy. A case in point was that of the young Ottawa bank employee who took $96,000 of the bank's money. The judge was moved to reflections upon the bank president for not paying the boy more than $90 a month. As receiving teller he was handling an average of $25,000 a day.

He was sent home to his mother and told to come back into court when he was sent for. Landis said he had a tough decision to make. He had to send the boy somewhere and he didn't want to do it. The whole episode might have remained a local incident, but it did not, and now Senator Dial of South Carolina will ask for the impeachment of Landis.

A good many friends of the judge will feel that in this case his outer dictum lacked a valid inspiration, but nevertheless, as the case stands, he is merely responsible for some statements which satisfied him. The boy is not discharged. He awaits sentence, and so far as we know will get it.

Judge Landis indulged in some observations regarding bank wages, whereas a judge more inclined to the underdecorated procedure of a court of law would have seen before him merely a self-confessed thief who had stolen money when he was in a position of trust. The boy did not steal $20. He stole $96,000. This was a plenty even in these days of high rents. He did not make complete confession and restitution. It took some hard work to get all the money and securities back.

Judge Landis might have made a more fortunate adventure into the field of social philosophy, but when an excited senator talks of impeaching him the affair is getting into a greater distortion. Landis' record is one which makes the crooks fear him. He injects his personality into cases often enough to be reversed frequently in the higher courts, but the crooks do not like to go before him. They think he is hard boiled. Probably he does write his own law some of the time and is his own authority on judicial practice and procedure, but his credit side overshadows the debit.

We suppose he will emerge from this controversy popularly regarded as the whipper of sin in high places and the friend of the downtrodden. He fined John D. Rockefeller $25,000,000 and wants to deal gently with a poor bank thief. That will not hurt his reputation any, even if the popular opinion is not as accurate as it might be.

207 BLOWS TO CRIME.

Two hundred and seven Chicago criminals were jailed behind prison bars last month with sentences ranging up to life. That is one month's record in the Criminal courts working with double the ordinary number of judges. It is a record which might with advantage be posted in every gathering place of thugs and criminals in the city. It is a record which will certainly relieve the Chicago crime situation if it is continued.

Eight extra judges were assigned to the Criminal courts to clear up the calendar. With this addition the judicial staff disposed of 379 indictments in the month. That 207 convictions were obtained is sufficient evidence of the conscientious manner in which the cases were handled.

Such a record is a very real deterrent to crime and a very real protection to society. It shows the criminal that the courts are a medium of just punishment, not a technical labyrinth in which the consequences of crime can be dodged. Such clearing of a path direct from crime to punishment is exactly what Chicago has needed. May the good work go on.

THE CHIEF'S CLEANUP.

Chief Fitzmorris has announced that there are 500 worthless or worse policemen on the force and that he intends to get rid of every one of them. Judging from his record in the department to date the chief probably is right on both counts. He has given his commanding officers thirty-six hours start in the task of combing out the undesirable. If they fail he promises to do the job himself, perhaps including even some of the aforesaid commanders.

The chief does not care whether the men are eliminated singly, by pairs, or by companies. His desire is to see them eliminated. Recent developments showing his authority over the civil service board, which will be called upon to try the men whom he seeks to dismiss, indicate that his threat to eliminate 500 men is not idle. Ordinarily such a threat, backed by such indications of power as the chief has shown, would be considered dangerous to the institution of civil service and to the city as well as to the men involved. Only the reputation for fairness and efficiency which the chief is building up with his power saves him from general opposition in this development.

As long as he keeps up his reputation for fairness and efficiency he can use drastic methods. It is obvious that he cannot operate successfully for any extended period if he is opposed by a faction of several hundred lazy or corrupt men in the department. Sooner or later they would ruin him by handicapping the work of the force if not by personally directed conspiracy. It is not only natural but wise, therefore, that the chief should announce that he is after the scoundrels of these men. If he gets them it will not only strengthen his power in the department but will strengthen his responsibility. He says himself that the other 4,000 men on the force are industrious, efficient, and loyal. With the bad ones gone and only good ones remaining there will be little excuse for anything but good police work. That is the kind of work Chicago wants to see. It can therefore look forward with a calm eye to the chief's efforts to add 500 men to the army of the unemployed.

If he fails to oust them he will go a route no worse than innumerable predecessors. If he succeeds he will put himself in a position where any slackness or inefficiency will be stamped as his own. In such circumstances he can make a reputation as Chicago's greatest chief or follow the 500 into oblivion.

WHY FORD ATTACKS JEWS.

Henry Ford in an interview says that he started the attacks on the Jews in the Dearborn Independent to bring about world peace. The Jews, he says, are all right and cannot be blamed because they are alert. It was the "poor boob gentile" that Henry wanted to arouse.

The Jewish international bankers were fostering the armament race, and Henry wanted to stop them.

"I want the Jews to cooperate with the gentiles," he said, "and bring about world peace. That is why our newspaper has been used to expose Jew propaganda. It is our purpose to wake up the gentiles and get them on their job."

We hope Mr. Ford never finds his way into the United States senate or into any other position of public responsibility. We have hoped for this ever since he emerged from the innocence of his position as a maker of Ford cars into the position of a public counselor.

A finer case of a man not knowing it was loaded never was presented. Mr. Ford has money to put over his ideas, and a rarer outfit of ideas never was put over.

He'll be down south next promoting world peace by starting a race war. He wanted the Jews and the gentiles to cooperate. Therefore he did his best to make the gentiles fear and hate the Jews and to cause the Jews to feel that they were inimical aliens in the United States.

He tried to incite both Jew and gentile to hatred of each other, and out of this state of mind he expected to bring cooperation and world peace.

Sometimes we think that Henry Ford isn't and never was and never could be. Some things must be impossible. Can any fantasy be a fact? This Tribune, realizing the American people think that a man successful in one endeavor must be wise in all, has endeavored to keep Mr. Ford from getting influence over people's opinions. We think that the endeavor was fully justified.

TO FIND FUNDS FOR NEW BUILDING.

Probably the most encouraging word uttered in the housing controversy for many months is the statement of A. E. Jesurum, secretary of the Chicago Tenants' Protective league, that plans are being prepared for a campaign to erect 10,000 new apartment buildings in Chicago. Such a program of construction, if put through, would almost solve the housing problem. It would relieve overcrowding, reduce rents, and assure a continuation of normal growth in Chicago when general business returns to normal.

Without a building program of such scope the efforts of the tenants' league to prevent extortion can result in little more than temporary relief of a comparatively few individual cases. Such relief is valuable in so far as it does not discourage building, but the danger of such discouragement is so close that a simultaneous effort to increase construction is especially necessary.

Such a program as that suggested, of course, will call for a vast amount of capital. It is in the task of providing this capital that tenants' associations and other civic organizations can prove their great faith and vision. An individual or company preparing to build turns naturally to the banks for capital. The banks are being constantly assailed because of their apparent unwillingness to allow loans for such purposes. Those who assail them forget the laws which limit the amount of money a bank can tie up in long term real estate loans. They forget that to keep out of trouble with the examiners the bank must sell its real estate mortgages to the public almost as fast as they are made. But forgetfulness does not change the facts. The facts are that if private investors do not have confidence in real estate loans and do not thereby create a market to take up mortgages and realty bonds, cash cannot be made available through the banks for building.

Clearly it is up to the public to buy real estate securities if money is to be provided to promote building, which must be promoted if sufficient houses are ever to be erected and rents reduced. The banks are willing to lend. They must lend if they wish to stay in business. But they cannot tie their funds up in long term mortgages. The public can stimulate loans for building by buying building bonds and mortgages. Let the tenants' association add a campaign of education along this line to its plans for a building boom and its plans for justice in individual rental cases and the housing problem will be well started toward solution.

A LINE OF TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

IN the Review of Reviews, Mr. Herbert Wade entitles his interview with Prof. Michelson, "Measuring the Stars of the Solar System." Wonder how he explained it to the Prof?

The identity of the man whom Mr. Wilson designated as "a simple bungalow" remains a secret, although the best guess is Secretary.

Oh, Take a Chance.

Sir: Quite inadvertently I missed lauds on Wednesday. No less the start, however, to read this morning in our village chronicle: "Lent will be observed by local Episcopalians with self-denial and abstinence from worldly gaiety." There are a number of matters of absorbing interest I am prepared to communicate. Shall I—in the Wordsworthian sense—remain incommunicable, or venture ex-communication? Sine sole silio.

WE have some copper stock that we were thinking of using to paper a henhouse, but it appears that the company is still holding annual meetings, for what purpose we cannot conjecture.

THE DELIRIOUS MILLINER.

(From the Boston Herald.)

When the tide of indifference takes possession of a woman's heart it turns to marble, and pity the man who picks that unfortunate woman for his wife. The moorings of common sense teach that the progress of woman in this world rests in the capable hands of the feminine mental machinery, that realizes the great value of the unexpressed and silent language striven in attractively military hat symbols.

A lady's hat, it becoming a sign and a certain sign that her train of thoughts and feelings are logical, intellectual and sincere. It is my aim on Saturday, in the French Room of the millinery department, to draw to the pathway of the best women in Boston with a trimmed hat triumph and opportunity that will admit of no controversy, but be declared the most successful and wonderful millinery sale I have ever attempted in this city.

C. A. Lockhart.

IN offering its law books for sale, the West Publishing Co. advertises wittily: "By listening in the trees at the entrance of the secret cave All Baba learned the magical words that would open the storehouse of the forty thieves."

Up to Date.

Honolulu, Jan. 24.—A native guide was showing Punch Bowl—so called because it is extinct—to a tourist and said, "This crater has been dead twenty-five thousand and fifteen years." "Where do you get the fifteen years?" asked the tourist. "Fifteen years ago, Professor Alexander he tell me crater been dead twenty-five thousand years."

OVERHEARD IN FIELD: "Is this Castle soap domestic?" "Well, it can be used domestically, but it is also good for the skin."

LET YOUR LIGHT SO SHINE.

DIKHOVITSKY's orchestra seems to be in need of savants. The Athletic Club's appeal mentions, with perfect candor and truth, that "the orchestra is about the only thing in the realm of art and culture which the city can boast of."

THE THOUSAND AND ONE AFTERNOONS.

VI.

My brother (continued the fair Salade) was suddenly dispatched to Norway to consult on a feat of engineering, so it was December when he reached Chicago. The bulk of his luggage had been sent from Capt. by express, and when he unpacked his things his hotel he looked with renewed interest and curiosity on the pink shirt which his English friend had given him. He put it on, and as it fitted well, he decided to wear it the remainder of the day, adding to it a green bow tie. After dinner he set out for a stroll, which was interrupted by a rain, so he went to the theater time, he turned into a house of entertainment and joined the line before the box office. Preceding him was a woman stylishly dressed and accompanied, and she stopped at the window and turned her profile to Valentine he saw that she was very handsome, though by no means young. She dropped a ball in the aisle and he picked it up. My brother recovered it for her she thanked him graciously, and their eyes met, as they say in the Saturday Evening Post, and he was struck.

Valentine's attention to the lady's money interest in him without surprise. He was young and good looking, even distinguished looking, and he was accustomed to the flattery of the female of the species. What intrigued him was the intensity of her gaze and her almost startled confusion. He paid little attention to the lady's eyes, but he was busy searching through the audience for the object of his thoughts. When the final curtain fell he took a taxi and drove home, and he was not to see her again. His vigilance was rewarded by the lady's answering glance was distinctly friendly and her color deepened. Valentine edged after her, but halted when she stood at the door waiting for her motor. She did not look around, and after a step forward Valentine paused irresolute at her side. The limousine drew up, and he saw the lady's eyes and cried, "All right!" The chauffeur shot the car out of the jam.

[From the Gazette, Neb., Enterprise.]

Monday night the calaboose of the village of Surprise had an occupant. Towards night a solitary stranger roamed into town, and as he admitted that he was "on his uppers" was given a berth in the cooler. Lest the place should be altogether too cool, Chairman Dear built a good fire in the jail, thoroughly warming the room and the bed. We will venture to say this man will remember for some time his lodging in Surprise.

How to Keep Well. By Dr. W. A. Evans.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit, or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitation, and where a stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease. Requests for such service cannot be answered.

TYPHOID A Waning Disease.

LEAHSE publishes an article on typhoid, causes and prevention. S. R. N. writes.

When typhoid fever was far more prevalent than it now is the disease varied with the seasons and there was very little of it, relatively speaking, during the winter. At the present time there is less winter typhoid than in the old times, but the heavy rates of summer and autumn have slumped so the disease no longer is looked on as seasonal. In other words, winter typhoid is almost as important as summer typhoid. Especially is this the case when we add to the list of typhoid cases those of winter diarrheas, a disease which merely is a masked form of typhoid.

Typhoid is due to the typhoid bacillus. This bacillus is spread by typhoid carriers (people), by polluted water, infected milk, occasionally by oysters and vegetables, and by flies and fingers. Typhoid never be near a physician's office where they have all the elaborate electrical apparatus which is required, have an examination to determine what kind of arthritis you have. In the meanwhile go serenely on leading the life appropriate to a healthy man of 80.

There are two great avenues of prevention of typhoid, namely, by vaccination. Vaccination is done by injecting a considerable dose of dead typhoid bacilli hypodermically. The injections are three in number, and are given at intervals of ten to fifteen days.

Somewhere about one week after the first injection a small degree of immunity is in evidence. This increases daily. By four weeks after the first injection the immunity is considerable enough to withstand infection by typhoid bacilli present in moderate amount in food or water. The immunity lasts for three to five years, though it decreases materially during the third year.

The immunity rarely is considerable enough to withstand massive dosage with typhoid bacilli.

The other great avenue of protection is sanitation. Above all, keep the water supply free from sewage pollution. If pure water is unavailable, that which is available can be made safe by the use of chlorine, hypochlorite, or halazone, or by boiling.

Keep the milk clean. If not assured of its safety, make it safe by pasteurization or by boiling. Cooking makes vegetables safe. Flies can be suppressed, and should be. Scrupulous cleanliness of the household and of the hands should be observed.

GIVE TIRED EGO A REST.

REPLY.

If you will work harder and think more about your work and less about your back, you will get along first class. The Lord fixed our breathing machinery so that it runs automatically. We breathe fast or slow, deep or shallow, just as our tissues need the gas. When we try to monkey with the works the automatic control goes wrong, but says as soon as we forget to interfere, Old Man Automatic smiles, resets the machinery up, and in a short while has the wheels back in gear.

[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]
SHANGHAI, Feb. 14. Japan is steadily consolidating her position in the province of Shantung despite assurances that her troops would be withdrawn and that Tsingtao would be returned to China. Incidents indicating her ambition to convert the province into a Japanese territory and infringements of China's sovereignty are practically of daily occurrence.

The Japanese administration at Tsingtao has forbidden the Chinese to establish schools, religious societies, newspapers or public organizations. Japanese companies are minting Chinese copper coins, lighter in weight than the standard, which are circulating not only in Shantung, but in other parts of the country.

Japs Arm Bandits.
The most serious charge, however, is that the Japanese are arming the Chinese bandits in Shantung who are preying on the native population, robbing them of the few possessions left to them in their struggle with famine. The Japanese population at Tsinanfu, the capital of the province, claiming that the Chinese police are incapable of giving them the necessary protection are demanding the right to organize their own volunteer force.

Shriey, secretary of the federal highway commission, that the highway commission is with him that the road ought to be heavier so they will last longer. It is not a burden to the assessment tax payer at such an early date, but to accommodate a few truck businessmen at the expense of so many others to them? They soon destroy highways and turn beautiful roads into streets through towns into noisy dirt lines. What about the roads built and just completed last year? Are they not to be preserved? The nation thinks trucks show progress and are an economic need, let the build heavy motor truck lines trucks alone, leading to the large commercial centers, and lightweight trucks could carry their freight to stations and not ruin the highways for the masses.

Property owners on Western avenue are of seeing our street obstructed by trucks and more tired of paying taxes for the accommodation of a few truck owners.

WOMEN SWOON AS GIRL MEETS DEATH BENEATH ELEVATOR

Miss Margaret Thompson of 904 North Wells street was crushed to death yesterday by an automatic elevator in the Sherer-Gillette company's plant at 1705 South Clark street. The accident was witnessed by a number of other men and women employees. Several of the latter fainted and others became hysterical.

Miss Thompson, believing the elevator was at the first floor, looked into the shaft over the top of a small gate at the second floor. The elevator, descending from the third floor, struck her on the back of the head. Other employees stopped the elevator, but not before it had wedged the body of the girl between the top and bottom part of the flooring. Those who had fainted were revived and were sent home.

Japanese police have already begun to patrol the city.

Balks at $25,000.

Grunke was called in as arbitrator, testimony showed. Conklin refused to pay $25,000, and after several conferences the amount was shaved down to $10,000. Conklin gasped, it is said, but paid $500 down to the Fielders and gave Grunke certificates for $7,500. It was understood the justice was to hold the money for a while "to keep the Fielders' names out of it."

The court compelled Grunke to return the certificates, but Fielder had only $425 left of his $500 payment. He turned that over, however.

DEACON AND WIFE NIP RICH FARMER IN A LOVE PLOT

Rockford, Ill., Feb. 14.—[Special.]—Harry W. Fielder, deacon in the village church at Shirland, Ill.; his wife, Mrs. Carrie Kenney Fielder, soloist and organist, and Justice of the Peace August F. Grunke, 70 year old pillar of the church, were held in $1,000 bonds each by Magistrate B. W. Norton here today on charges of extorting $5,000 from Albert D. Conklin, a wealthy farmer.

The Fielders and Grunke admitted accepting the money as a "settlement" for "keeping quiet" concerning a sub-rosa romance between Conklin, who is 62 years old, and Mrs. Fielder, who is 35.

Hears Reports About Wife.

It appears from the testimony that Fielder some time ago was informed of a scandal carried by gossiping tongues in the church. The gossip had to do with his wife and Conklin, her uncle by marriage. Mrs. Fielder confessed. She admitted clandestine meetings with Conklin covering a period of eighteen months. The hanging of a rug in a certain place on the porch, she said, was a signal to Conklin her husband was absent.

Fielder is one of Conklin's tenants and occupies an adjoining farm.

"We understood Conklin was worth $75,000 and figured he ought to give us one-third of that amount," Mrs. Fielder told the state's attorney. "We had been told this was a customary settlement in such cases."

HARDING DREAM: U. S. TRADE AJAX, LABOR UTOPIA

Next President Discusses Ideals with Callers.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 14.—[Special.]—The pillars of Mr. Harding's policies, that he is discussing with visitors who come here anxious as to America's future, may be described as follows:

1. The establishment of industrial peace.

2. The making of America into a great, self-reliant commercial nation that will still stand as an example of democracy for the world, and accomplish more than the league of nations, keep out of entangling alliances, take government off business.

3. The building of the merchant marine, establishing new trade routes with the far east and Latin America.

Wants Mexican Trade.

One of the great things Mr. Harding wants to do is to settle the Mexican question and open that country for American business. It is the belief of his advisers that he will accomplish this.

On far eastern questions Mr. Harding has sought the advice of John C. Ferguson, adviser for many years to the president of China. The problems of this section of the world, and their relation to the United States, will loom high during the next four years, Mr. Ferguson says. He advocates a pro-American diplomacy everywhere. He will see Mr. Harding tomorrow.

Senator Medill McCormick today presented to Mr. Harding details on conditions in various European countries, including Germany, which the former recently visited. They discussed plans for opening avenues of trade and of means of new food supplies for those who are starving.

Sees Lamont and Dawes.

Among others who had appointments today was Thomas W. Lamont, a partner in the Morgan banking house, who helped frame the financial sections of the treaty of Versailles.

Charles G. Dawes came over from Jacksonville with J. E. Gorman of Chicago, today and played golf with Mr. Harding.

As to former Governor Lowden, there is still a good chance that he may be in the cabinet. He has declined, but has been asked to reconsider. Mr. Harding has assured him that he really needs him and wants him. Henry A. Wise Wood of New York had a talk with Mr. Harding today.

"He is a great American—a president we can trust," Mr. Wood said after the interview.

Charles Evans Hughes is expected to reach St. Augustine Friday or Saturday.

Mr. Harding will get into politics again with the arrival of Will H. Hays, and Harry M. Daugherty.

E. V. O'Connor, longshoremen's union leader of New York, is expected soon.

MRS. SUSIE B. WOODWORTH.

"YOU are a pretty little girl. Are there any more at home like you?" Mrs. Susie B. Woodworth, who died yesterday at the age of 106, used to tell her grandchildren and great-grandchildren how Lincoln took her on his knee when she was 16 years old and said these words to her.

Her father, Isaac Roper, enlisted with Lincoln in the Blackhawk war and they were friends. Lincoln used to be a visitor at their home in New Salem.

Mrs. Woodworth, a resident of Chicago for twenty years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Theresia W. Wines, 4622 Kenmore avenue. She came to Illinois when she was 6 years old. She was born in Overton county, Tenn. Her grandfather, John Witt, fought in the revolutionary war.

Her body will be taken to Lake Maria, Wis., today and buried in a cemetery near there, where Mrs. Woodworth's husband and three children are already buried.

NEWSPAPER PLANT BURNS.

Port Angeles, Wash., Feb. 14.—The plant of the Port Angeles Daily Herald was wrecked by fire of undetermined origin today. The extent of the damage has not been ascertained.

WILSON TO VETO FARMER TARIFF, UNDERWOOD SAYS

Washington, Feb. 14.—[By the Associated Press.]—Developments relative to tariff legislation were rapid in Congress today. They included:

Declaration by Senator Underwood in the senate he had received assurances President Wilson would veto and assent the Fordney emergency tariff bill.

Announcement by Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, that a vote on the Fordney bill probably would be obtained tomorrow night.

Tariff Bills Come First.

There was a statement by Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee making definite the intention of Republican leaders to press legislation revising the permanent tariff through the extra session before attempting consideration of taxation questions.

The Fordney bill was pulled out of its pigeon hole for several hours of debate late in the day without result.

Senator Underwood refused to say whether his assurances of a presidential veto came from the president.

Permanent Tariff Plans.

Plans of the Republican leaders concerning revision of the permanent tariff were made public in the form of a letter by Mr. Fordney to Representative Frear, Republican, Wisconsin. Any program, Mr. Fordney said, which did not contemplate immediate action on revision of the Underwood tariff act would not be in accord with the "overwhelming expression of the people" in the November election.

"After the tariff bill has passed the house," Mr. Fordney's letter continued, "and during the time it is being debated in the senate, time will be afforded to prepare a new revenue bill and to conduct hearings on which tax revision should be based."

GERMANY SEEKS TO RE-ESTABLISH STEAMSHIP LINES

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

BERLIN, Feb. 14.—Hamburg and other German ports have not returned to their pre-war hustle and activity, but they are at work again. The North German Lloyd company will ask the shareholders at a meeting March 5 to increase the capital stock from 125 to 250 million marks to enable the company to take up building on a larger scale.

The plan of the German companies is to establish sailing schedules along the same lines as before the war even if they are forced to use very small vessels. How they are doing this is illustrated by a recent action of the Holland line, an ally of the Hamburg American line.

This concern had completed a big new steamer, the Aldebaran, and could have kept it according to the terms of the peace treaty. Instead the company preferred to send the ship to Holland where it obtained in exchange five smaller ones ranging from 661 to 1,125 tons.

By doing this the line was enabled to cover five routes instead of one. Other similar trades are contemplated.

Grandette

The Supreme Small Grand

A real grand in a more convenient size—not merely a grand in miniature.

The highest attainments in tonal quality, volume, touch and control have been achieved in this, the masterpiece of the celebrated old house of Kranich & Bach, which for over half a century has been producing pianos that are the pride of master musicians everywhere.

Costs little more than a good upright. Occupies no more space. Is immeasurably superior as a musical instrument of artistic beauty.

McCLURE'S

Edited by Herbert Kaufman

OWEN JOHNSON'S

Greatest Novel

"The Wasted Generation"

In February McClure's

A tale of the World's Awakening and of a world awake. There's a surge of full life in it—the throes of souls, the deep loves of men, the clash of rivalry, the pain of sacrifice, the all-absorbing singleness of woman's devotion. A superb romance. A tremendous picture of life. Illustrated by James Montgomery Flagg.

"Gun Play"

by Arthur Stringer

In February McClure's

A whale of a stage story—in which a denied woman wrestles with Destiny, willing to sacrifice herself for what she believes is her daughter's good. She did not measure the force behind that law which sends Youth seeking Happiness. She did not measure the power shaping her own Destiny. We believe that this is Arthur Stringer's finest bit of short fiction. Illustrated by P. V. E. Ivory.

"Time Out for Granberry"

by Samuel Merwin

In February McClure's

Samuel Merwin, the kindly and keen young sage of old Concord, is turning the human beings inside out and throwing the pictures of its motive-forces upon the screen of the printed page. The method is fascinating—especially when used with an artist's skill and with a philosopher's tolerance. "Time Out for Granberry" is the very human tale of a man who did not know how to be human. Illustrated by F. R. Gruger.

"The Fog of Orleans"

by Holworthy Hall

In February McClure's

It deals with that deadly feminine combination—slumbering eyes with a soft voice. It is altogether a delightful narrative of a cynic's downfall, and of the manner in which the pieces of him were put together again. Illustrated by T. D. Skidmore.

"One or Two Women"

by Fanny Heaslip Lee

In February McClure's

Rosita was born to make trouble, and as a near-great lover she does her blithe-some worst in this adventure. But after all, Youth is not the match for Wisdom, and a very, very wise wife teaches Rosita that guile and gentleness are equally potent weapons of warfare. Illustrated by Charles D. Mitchell.

Again!

THE first national publication to resume its pre-war price. A better McClure's than ever—no change in size, quality or quantity of reading.

More great stories by more great writers than were ever printed in the same magazine within the same year—and here's the proof.

McClure's tremendous program for 1921 includes serials by Owen Johnson, Zane Grey and Mary Roberts Rinehart; a new series of Booth Tarkington stories; another series of Ibanez stories.

Herbert Kaufman's editorials appear in every number.

McClure's is the one and only general monthly at 15 cents. Every other publication in its field is 25 and 35 cents or more.

It can be done—

It has been done.

The 15-cent magazine—the magazine that achieved the greatest literary and commercial success of all time, is back again—and back to stay.

Eighty thousand increase in news stand sales for January and February and a bigger March edition coming.

The only 15-cent illustrated general magazine left on earth. Why pay more for less.

ZANE GREY'S

Biggest Serial

"The Wanderer of Wasteland"

In February McClure's

Three thousand five hundred of Zane Grey's books are sold every day. He writes with a quirt and a six-gun. No other American author since Fenimore Cooper has stamped his personality upon frontier literature as this historian of a nation in the making. No other magazine is printing Grey's novels. Illustrated by W. Herbert Dunton.

"Quills the Indifferent"

by Charles G. D. Roberts

In February McClure's

A real animal story. No one comes along to equal this watcher of the wild folk, and with good reason, for no one so knows the little people of the wilderness—or can tell their comedies and dramas with such compelling artistry. "Quills the Indifferent" is an adventure story, a robber story, and the story of a triumphant conqueror—all in one. Illustrated by Paul Bransom.

"Clyde Fitch's Memoirs"

In February McClure's

The self-searching and all-revealing correspondence of our most distinguished playwright. These letters expose all the depths and whimsicalities of an astounding, unusual personality. They tell how "Barbara Frietche" was written for Julia Marlowe, the "Climbers" for Amelia Bingham and "Nathan Hale" for Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott—a magic key to yesterday's stage door.

"The Tolerant Tax Payer"

by Gareth Garrett

In February McClure's

A collection of startling facts to make every tax payer's pocket wince. Mr. Garrett, easily the foremost economic analyst of the country, has found where the leaking billions go—including your share of it.

U.S. BEGINS QUIZ AFTER 7 DIE IN GERMAN PLANES

Seeks Cause of Crashes of All-Metal Machines.

An investigation that may result in the condemnation of the German built, all metal type of monoplane—JL6—in which seven pilots and mechanics have been killed, was started yesterday. Of the eight Junkers in the mail service, three have been destroyed by fire and one by crashing into a tree.

Otto Praeger, second assistant postmaster general, has appointed a committee composed of Col. John A. Jor, chief of construction of the air mail service, Maj. William McChord, chief of the United States air service, central department, and Lieut. B. D. Page, air mail service test pilot, to make a thorough investigation into the cause of the accident at La Crosse, Wis., in which Pilot W. L. Croese, of Minneapolis, H. H. Rowe of Chicago, and Mechanic Robert B. Hill of Havana, Ill., were killed.

The committee was appointed after Gov. J. A. O. Preus of Minnesota had urged the postmaster general demand an immediate investigation.

"All accidents are carefully investigated," Col. Jor said last night, "but because these metal ships have been burned we are going to study thoroughly the construction and the engine to determine whether we should continue using the planes or not."

The engine is a B. M. W., a copy of the Mercedes, a six cylinder, vertical type. We have been told the former accidents were caused by vibration breaking the fuel gasoline feed pipe.

The ship burned at La Crosse had been fitted with a flexible gas line that ran outside the fuselage. I do not believe the gas line caused the accident.

Mechanics who made the changes in the ship were questioned last night at the Maywood flying field, after which the committee went to La Crosse.

Controls Failed, Witnesses Say.

"Our information so far tends to show that the controls failed to work," Lieut. Page said. "I have tested several planes of this type and had no trouble with them. It is always possible the controls might be jammed. The ship did not break into flames in the air, as has been reported, but caught fire after it crashed to earth."

Twenty-one men have lost their lives in the air mail service during the war and a half year of its operation, including the seven killed in the Junker machines bought by the postoffice department since the war, at a cost of $100,000.

The department has 215 American planes, sixty-five of which are now in use, including those held in reserve at various fields. The others are either in warehouses or are being remodeled.

Milwaukee Woman Who Is Held
Following Father's Death.

MRS. MARY TAYLOR.

(Photo Bullock News Bureau.)

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 14.—[Special.]—Charged with the murder of her father, Capt. Bradley Quis, former Missouri navigator, wealthy, and at one time a prominent man in Milwaukee, Mrs. Mary Taylor, his daughter, was arrested today.

District Attorney Zabel said his office "has sufficient evidence to lay before a jury," but admitted it was mostly circumstantial.

"The motive is there," the district attorney said. "Mrs. Taylor is sole heir to a large estate. Another woman comes into his life; he prepares for the marriage, and on the eve of the day on which he was to obtain the license to marry he is murdered. Quis left property worth more than $75,000."

The wealthy navigator had completed arrangements to marry Mrs. Nellie Rutledge of this city. He was found strangled to death in the cellar of his daughter's home last Tuesday.

WAR LORD FEUD UPSETS JAPAN; INVOLVES PRINCE

TOKIO, Feb. 14.—Rivalry between the ancient army clan of Choshu and the navy clan of Satsuma, which popularly are supposed to be warring in the councils of the empire, is ascribed to be behind the movement to annul the betrothal of Crown Prince Hirohito to Princess Nagako.

The mother of Princess Nagako is a sister of Prince Shimazu, head of the Satsuma clan, while Field Marshal Yamagata, who is regarded by the people as the power behind the throne, is the undisputed leader of the Choshu faction.

More Officials to Quit.

More resignations of persons in the imperial household are expected as an outgrowth of the alleged "intrigue" to break off the engagement between the crown prince and Princess Nagako, and the date of the marriage is likely to be advanced. Meanwhile preparations are going on for the departure of the crown prince for England.

The newspapers are devoting a great amount of space to the court "intrigue." They print in detail sketches of the 18 year old princess, who is described as of athletic tendencies. She plays tennis, practices Swedish gymnastic exercises, and dances. She is an assiduous student of geography and of politics.

The villa of Field Marshal Yamagata near Fuji is being closely guarded. The Hochi Shimbun today says he already has offered his resignation as an elder statesman.

Yukio Ozaki, former leader of the opposition party, says that the "incident" in the court "demonstrates that the worm-eaten system of elder statesman administration" is bad for Japan and should be abolished and Yamagata should be forced to retire.

Arrested at Yamagata Villa.

ODAWARA, Japan, Feb. 14.—A Japanese today tried to enter the villa of Field Marshal Yamagata to demand that he retire from public life "atone for his sin." The man was arrested.

SMOOT ASKS IF SENATE'S GOING 'WILD?' 'CRAZY?'

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—[Special.]—Senator Smoot of Utah asked his fellow members today: "Are we going crazy? It seems we are going wild. Where are we going? I think we better call a halt." He said later, in conversation, he was "thoroughly disgusted."

Senator Smoot made his charge of "going wild" during the debate on

Senator Calder's amendment to the legislative, executive, and judicial annual appropriation bill to give a bonus of $540 to each mechanic employed in the navy yards and arsenals, the item adding another $17,000,000 to the 1921-22 pay roll of the government.

It was asserted by Senator Smoot that these men, who now get a bonus, were already receiving a wage of 22 cents an hour and that their wages exceeded, without the bonus, wages paid men similarly employed in shipyards and by the shipping board, even when the bonus was added to the pay of the workers not on arsenal and navy yard pay rolls.

For Burning Eczema

Apply Zemo, the Clean, Antiseptic Liquid—Easy to Use—Does Not Stain

Greasy salves and ointments should not be applied if good clear skin is wanted. From any druggist for 25c, or $1.00 for large size, get a bottle of Zemo. When applied as directed it effectively removes eczema, quickly stops itching, and heals skin troubles, also sores, burns, wounds and chafing. It penetrates, cleanses and soothes. Zemo is a clean, dependable and inexpensive, antiseptic liquid. Try it, as we believe nothing you have ever used is as effective and satisfying.

In skin troubles, ordinary soaps are irritating and liable to aggravate the condition. Use Zemo soap. It is antiseptic, soothing, and hastens the process of healing.

CLEAN UP BUDGET BILLS, HARDING URGES CONGRESS

Wants a Clean Slate for Next Session.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]
Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—[Special.]—Notwithstanding President Harding's efforts today to speed up action in congress, several of the most important appropriation measures, including the army and the navy bills, carrying more than $700,000,000, seem doomed to failure at the present session.

Mr. Harding, in a telegram to Senator Lodge, Republican leader in the senate, and Majority Leader Mondell of the house, had indicated his concern over the legislative jam, but the filibuster against the emergency tariff bill has been acting as a brake on all action in the senate, and even if that measure reaches a vote within the next few days, both the army and navy bills will be subjected to considerable debate involving disarmament.

Some senators believe it would be better to put these measures over until the next session, in order that the size of the army and navy can be adapted to the new administration's foreign policy.

Harding's Telegram.

In his telegram to Senator Lodge President Harding said:
"I learn of danger of the failure of some of the appropriation bills at this session of the congress. I am reluctant to intrude my views or in any way to suggest what congress ought to do, but I feel free to say to you that it would be exceedingly gratifying if congress could clear all appropriation bills out of our way during the present session. Such a course would greatly simplify the important work which will have to be taken up at the extra session of the new congress."

"I am sure you will construe this expression as one which I find justified because of my former association with the importance I attach to prompt action by the next congress in dealing with pressing problems."

The message to Representative Mondell was along the same lines.

The Replies.

Senator Lodge replied as follows:
"Telegram received. Am in absolute agreement with you, and have been laboring for the passage of the appropriation bills from the beginning of the session. Am doing everything in my power. I am very glad to get your

THE BANK OF KINDNESS

Draw a Check on It for the Unfortunate.

BY REV. G. A. MAC WHORTER.

Ten sewing groups of the European aid committee under the direction of Mrs. Walter E. Cuneo, 4849 Magnolia avenue, which have been making garments for the needy children of overseas countries, have exhausted their supplies of materials and have issued an appeal for goods from which young-ladies' clothing may be made. These groups are located in Woodstock, Harvard, Crystal Lake, Arlington Heights, Morgan Park, and at the Mozart school, and during the last two months have made thousands of garments for the children of Poland, Germany, and the near east.

The materials most needed are cotton flannel, gingham, Danish cloth, and unbleached muslin, and quantities from hundreds of bolts down to one yard will be gratefully received. Workshops similar to those in operation during the war have been established, and they will be idle within a few days if materials are not forthcoming. Any one desiring to give materials is asked to send them to the office of the European aid committee room, 1311 Garlick Theater building.

Approximately $7,000 was raised for the Marks Nathan Jewish Orphan home, 1550 South Albany avenue, at a dance held last night in the Hotel La Salle by the woman's auxiliary of the home. Mrs. J. B. Malkes, president of the auxiliary, estimated that there was an attendance of 1,000 people.

telegram. Shall continue to make every effort to get all the appropriation bills through that are possible."

Mr. Mondell answered:
"I am pleased to have your telegram relative to appropriation bills. I entirely agree with you as to the very great importance of passing all appropriation bills at this session. I believe this matter of primary importance; nothing else is so pressing, so essential. We shall faithfully work to this end, and hope to make the record by passing the last appropriation bill through the house by Thursday evening."

Illinois Roads Fight to Enforce Higher Rates

The Illinois railroads' fight for government permission to collect the 3.5 passenger fare and the 40 per cent freight rate increase recently authorized by the Interstate commerce commission was begun in federal court yesterday, Bruce Scott, general counsel for the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, asked that Illinois authorities be restrained from enforcing the two cent fare law. He declared enforcement would cause an annual deficit of $15,000,000 to Illinois railroads.

PROF. MICHELSON GOES TODAY FOR PARIS LECTURES

Will Demonstrate How He Measures Stars.

Prof. Albert A. Michelson, whose star measuring apparatus has started the scientific world, will leave Chicago today bound for Paris, France, where he will lecture as an exchange professor in the University of Paris for three months. Incidentally he will visit London, where he will be decorated by societies and lecture on his discoveries.

Prof. Michelson yesterday viewed the fifth issue of films by the Society for Visual Education, of which he is a supporter. The films, which are being sent throughout America to bring expensive experiments to the smaller institutions of learning, showed a number of experiments in electricity.

The announcement of Prof. Michelson's new device to measure the stars came last December, and excited the scientific world. By it he has measured many of the greater stars in the visible universe, among them Rigel, which was found to be many million times greater than our sun, and of such immensity it would fill the greater portion of our solar system.

He also ascertained that one star, Alpha Orionis, has a diameter 300 times as large as our sun and a volume 27,000,000 times as large.

LUNDIN ELECTION BILL MAY MEET ROUGH SAILING

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 14.—[Special.]—Rough weather is predicted by many for the Lundin election bill, that would put into power the city hall county committee in Chicago, introduced Thursday in the state by Senator Lantz.

Arriving senators today were disposed to become belligerent over the way the bill came to the senate and subsequently was referred to the judiciary committee. Some of them want to know why it went to the judiciary instead of the elections committee, to which normally would be referred all legislation on primary or general elections.

Hearings on the three traction bills, including the repeal of the utilities act and the home rule measure, may begin in the senate committee on public utilities next week.

CITY REFUSES TO SIGN BONDS OF CAR COMPANY

On the advice of the city law department, City Controller Harding has refused to countersign bonds of the Chicago Railway company, thus blocking the exchange of old bonds for new coupon bonds.

The city's action, which will be extended to include bonds of the Chicago City Railway company, it is understood, is based on the contention that the Chicago Surface Lines, the operating concern under the 1907 ordinance, has broken its contract with the city.

"We feel sorry for the bondholders, but their position results from their dealing with a corporation which is in the same position as a minor or an insane person who cannot make a legal contract," Mr. Cleveland said. "If a representative of the city were to countersign these bonds, the city would become a party to the breaking of the contracts."

Give Your Stomach the Alkaline Effect

This Is What STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS Do To Relieve the Stomach of Acidity and Consequent Distress of Indigestion

Indigestion is a large subject. It may be referred to only in general terms. To describe it is to mobilize practically the entire population, tabulate all the different kinds of food, and then take into consideration all knowledge of human nature, all whims, moods, emotions, habits, psychology and all other terms—and the result may be determined as INDIGESTION or DYSPEPSIA due to acidity of the stomach for some folks, and bounding health for the other fellow. And, therefore, when the average citizen is concerned with relief, scholastic theory on the subject has no more interest to him than the "Neanderthal Man" theory has to the hackdriver. No, sir, he wants relief, and if Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will give this relief that is all he is concerned about.

Now, let's see how this works out—

The Precautionary Signal—Two Ways of Relief

There are a few folks who seemingly can eat anything without later regrets. These super people are blessed indeed. But most of us are out of their class. We have our little pet idiosyncrasies about foods—veal distresses us, pastries, pies or cakes spoil an afternoon or a night's sleep. Food that delights the eye seems to produce a reverse grouch in the stomach. And so it goes. What one may eat with delight and benefit is anathema to his brother. In the final analysis the thing to look for is "acid stomach"—an unnatural condition against which every sane stomach has a right to rebel. To forecast with 100% accuracy just when this condition is likely to occur is as futile as attempting to win the graces of the lady in the moon by midnight flirtation. It can't be done and so people who have learned by experience count among life's indispensable Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. These supply the stomach with an alkaline effect, thus promoting normal conditions as in health. This puts the O. K. on so-called rich food. When this natural condition exists all foods are reduced to a common level—all foods become agreeable foods and insure stomach comfort.

The precaution lies in the intelligent use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Strict, tortuous, self-punishing dieting is a safeguard against acidity. But why inflict such punishment on man's short life when the other way is so easy—make the stomach alkaline with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

The Alkaline Effect—You Feel Refreshed

There are occasionally cases where the stomach needs the ministrations of a skilled specialist. To such, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will be a wonderful demonstration of the value of an alkaline stomach, while to the average person the revelation of their merits will be most welcome. Think of being able to avoid all further acid troubles, to be able to prevent acid condition of the stomach or to relieve such a condition by the mere use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Their refreshing work is splendid repayment for their slight cost.

Eat Without Worry—Don't Fear Food

At any hotel, restaurant, cafe or club, and even at home, one cannot always select or inspect the food to be eaten. Nor can we have an advance word about its preparation. Home-made fried cakes, mince pie, plum pudding, fried sausage, buckwheat cakes, a big Sunday dinner with all its trimmings—what a nightmare of horrors to some. And yet how easy it is to avoid distress!

The question to decide is whether prompt relief with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the rational plan or whether it is better to suffer in silence or aloud until nature has overcome its acid-foe? The answer to you lies in the same answer of the millions of boxes of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets used every year by a host of friends in every walk of life. They have learned the joy of living in the joy of eating.

If you feel that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are an immediate necessity for you, then go to any drug store today and in exchange for 60 cents your druggist will supply you with a box.

YOUNGSTERS OF CUBS
SHOW TURN OF SPEED SIGNING CONTRACTS

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.
The arrival of five signed contracts in the Cubs' office yesterday, all from young ball players, indicates that the youngsters on Johnny Evers' squad are eager and enthusiastic for the proposed plan of building up a team of young fellows on the north side. By the time the squad leaves for the California camp all the youthful members are quite certain to be on hand, even if an 'old'un or two is holding out.

The Black Sox.
Echoing sentiments of Brother Crusinberry, the eight indicted White Sox players stand convicted on present evidence, so far as baseball is concerned, no matter what the result of their criminal trial. Unlike criminal law, the burden of proof must rest with the defense, rather than the prosecution, before the men could be reinstated to good standing. It would be necessary to show conclusively they were guiltless in the greatest scandal in the history of baseball.
Grimes Promising Kid.
Probably Manager Evers' greatest interest is in Grimes, who is a first baseman of more than ordinary promise. The Cubs need help at first base more than in any other position and this big youngster may be the fellow for the job. He performed splendidly last year for the Bridgeport club in the Eastern league, apparently being a better big league standard as well as a most active fielder. He will be only one of four or five who will be tried out at the first corner, but experts who have seen him believe he will win the assignment.
Two Young Hurriers.
Fuhr and Freeman are pitchers, the former being a sturdy left hander who made a great showing with Omaha last season. He lives down in Tulsa and wrote that he was eager to get into camp. He will go out with the early squad of hurriers so as to be prepared to pitch some of the first exhibition games against the Coast league teams. Freeman lives down in Waco, Tex., and also will be in the early squad. He is a right hander who played at Beaumont last year.

Back in the days when hobnob cars ran on State street a wholesale merchant distributed handbills asking the public not to pay fares unless a conductor collected. HOLZER LEADS LOOP
SECTION IN TOURNAY

FAIR STATE CUE TITLE

BY JOE DAVIS.
At the end of the first round in the semi-final series in the loop section of the Illinois state amateur three-cushion championship at Schaefer's room, last night, H. Holzer of Schafer's led with 103 points. A. Griz of Bensinger's Monroe room had 104 points and was tied with C. Holt of Sutton's room. Tim Shea of Bensinger's Madison street room had 95, A. G. Swans of Mussey's Monroe, 81, and H. C. Hunter of Corey's, 38.

Holzer Falls to Compete.
In order to provide accommodation for the spectators, six of the ten contestants played at Schaefer's rooms, and the others at the Hamilton club. Hahn, the Hamilton club player, did not appear.

Tim Shea had the fastest game at Schaefer's, going out in fifty-three innings, against Hunter. In his final game Shea lost to Griz, 35 to 32. Holzer won from Griz by four points. At the Hamilton club Slater of Bensinger's Madison room scored 70 points, defeating Hoffman of Bensinger's Randolph and Sampson of Bensinger's Wabash, 35 to 21 and 35 to 25, respectively. Sampson defeated Hoffman, 35 to 32.

The In West Side Play.
In the west side play at Four's room, 444 North Park side avenue, Gordon and Regan tied with 103 points. Regan came home with three victories and Gordon followed with a like number. Allen lost 98 points with Smith and Scott trailing with 97 each.

The best game was that played by
Smith when he beat Neishardt, in 66 innings. Other scores of the night were O'Brien 89, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 819, 820, 821, 822, 823, 824, 825, 826, 827, 828, 829, 830, 831, 832, 833, 834, 835, 836, 837, 838, 839, 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 845, 846, 847, 848, 849, 850, 851, 852, 853, 854, 855, 856, 857, 858, 859, 860, 861, 862, 863, 864, 865, 866, 867, 868, 869, 870, 871, 872, 873, 874, 875, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 881, 882, 883, 884, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 890, 891, 892, 893, 894, 895, 896, 897, 898, 899, 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, 909, 910, 911, 912, 913, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 923, 924, 925, 926, 927, 928, 929, 930, 931, 932, 933, 934, 935, 936, 937, 938, 939, 940, 941, 942, 943, 944, 945, 946, 947, 948, 949, 950, 951, 952, 953, 954, 955, 956, 957, 958, 959, 960, 961, 962, 963, 964, 965, 966, 967, 968, 969, 970, 971, 972, 973, 974, 975, 976, 977, 978, 979, 980, 981, 982, 983, 984, 985, 986, 987, 988, 989, 990, 991, 992, 993, 994, 995, 996, 997, 998, 999, 1000.

MADE IN AMERICA HOGS.

"MADE IN AMERICA" is a term often applied to the breed of hogs known as the Chester Whites. It originated in Chester and Delaware counties in Pennsylvania about a century ago. English Yorkshires, Lincolns, and Cheshires were bred together, producing a large white strain, which was later crossed with an English breed and named Chester County White. Later the word county was dropped from the name.

Various names were given to this breed in the different sections, but the principal one was O. I. C. (Ohio Improved Chester). In reality it is not unlike the Chester White in breed or type.

Early herds were large, coarse, with drooping ears and white in color. Breeding for quality has eliminated much of the coarseness. Today the Chester White is white as its name indicates and distinctly of the fat or lard type, medium to large in size.

Chester Whites are liked by breeders in the north central and New England states and Canada. Plantation owners in the south object to the white hog because of the belief that its white skin has a tendency to sunburn in a hot climate more than does the skin of dark colored hogs.

DEATH AFTER BASEBALL INJURY.
Goway, Ark., Feb. 14.—Troy Shuman, 19 years old, a member of the baseball team of a high school near here, died today from internal injuries received Saturday during a game.

CHICAGO BILLIARD LEAGUE.
During 15 in the last seven innings of the Chicago billiard league race, won from the veteran Charles Le Gros 45 to 42, in forty-eight innings at Casino last night. His high run was 7. Le Gros getting a 5. Tonight's schedule has been revised as follows:

At Leffingwell's: J. Stanton room—Charles Le Gros (50) vs. Sam Walker (48).
At Singer & Spolansky—Carl Stefanowicz (42) vs. Louis Engel (48).
At Lardner & Sherwood's—Joe Jacobs (45) vs. Ernie Lane (48).

SPRING MUST BE HERE; BASEBALL
VAN GOES SOUTH

New York, Feb. 14.—Baseball stars out of its winter shell tomorrow, when a little band of the New York Yankees keep hands southward to get ready for the 1921 drive.

Uncle Wilbert Robinson and a party of his National league champions will grab a train next week, and within a fortnight almost the whole major league flock will be distributed around the sunny clime.

Miller Huggins, manager of the Yankees, is taking Babe Ruth and his star battery men to Hot Springs for birth reduction and other things. Ted Barker's horses have commissioned them to climb mountains, hunt, and ride horses, but not to play baseball.

Many Clubs in New Camps.
Practically all of the clubs will do their spring training in a new place. Six of them—the Pittsburgh Pirates, Chicago Cubs, New York Giants, Washington Senators, Boston Red Sox, and Philadelphia Athletics will return to last year's scene.

Popular watering places and big towns of the south have been panned up by the majority of the managers, who seem to prefer little burgs without temptations. Cities close to "three mile limits" and race tracks do not keep the baseball mind on business, they think.

Texas Climes Popular.
Texas is the most popular training state, being chosen by the Giants, Detroit Tigers, Cincinnati Reds, Boston Braves, St. Louis Cardinals, White Sox, and the world champion Indians.

Louisiana gets the Brooklyn champions, New York Yankees, Athletics, and the St. Louis Browns. The Cubs go to California, the Red Sox and the Pirates to Arkansas.

Neis Signs Robin Contract;
Primed for League Race
Brooklyn, N. Y., Feb. 14.—[Special.]—A youngster who last season played an important part in the Brooklyn pennant fight, and who seems destined to become a star in his profession, has returned his signed contract for the next pennant race. He is Bernie Neis, a native of the south side of Chicago. Bernie is primed for the training season, and will be among those who report to Manager Robinson at New Orleans March 7.

Professional Men—

Doctors, lawyers, bankers, merchants—men of all classes—attended our great made-to-measure suit and overcoat sale last Saturday. They came—they saw—they bought! Were they surprised at the values?—we'll say they were. Men used to paying $100 for their clothes bought our all-wool garments at $24, $28, $32, $36, and they were well pleased. So great were the masses that we decided to extend the big sale for a few days. But only for a few days. Think of it—values up to $85 and $100 at these prices. And extra pants go free with every suit and overcoat. Seeing is believing—come today.

READING OFFERS COAL, RAILWAY DIVORCE PLANS

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 14.—The proposed segregation plan of the Reading company and government suggestions on it were filed in the United States District court today and the court fixed March 1 for the hearing.

The Reading company proposes to assume the $66,524,000 4 per cent general mortgage bonds now the joint obligation of the Reading company and the Reading Coal and Iron company.

The coal company will pay to the Reading company $10,000,000 in cash or current assets at market value and $55,000,000 in 4 per cent bonds of the coal company.

The Reading company will merge the Philadelphia and Reading Railway company under the authority contained in the present charter of the Reading company and will subject the railway property to the direct lien of the general mortgage. The plan proposes to defer actual sale of the $4,604,000 stock held by the Reading company in the Central Railroad of New Jersey pending the grouping of railroads by the interstate commerce commission.

The total stock of the Central Railroad of New Jersey is $27,436,800, and that road owns $8,488,000 of the $9,212,500 of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company.

The government objected to this delay, suggesting the Reading should sell the Jersey Central stock.

With certain exceptions general releases of all claims and liabilities as between the Reading company and the coal company, including the claim of approximately $70,000,000 carried on the books of the Reading company as an asset and on the books of the coal company as a liability will be exchanged.

Burlington Bonds Fought.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—[Special.]—Attacks on the application of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy for authority to issue $60,000,000 of stock and $109,000,000 of bonds out of its surplus were made before the interstate commerce commission today. The ground taken was that the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific, which jointly own 97 per cent of the stock of the Burlington, and not the Burlington, would benefit.

Representatives of the Burlington and the other two companies frantically admitted approval of the Burlington application would place the Great Northern and Northern Pacific in a position to meet the maturity of $116,000,000 of joint Burlington bonds July 1, 1921. At an interest cost of approximately $4,600,000 less annually than if the entire issue had to be refunded at 8 per cent interest.

The commission granted authority to the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad company to issue $1,500,000 of six months 6 per cent promissory notes, half to be dated Feb. 4, 1921, and a half to be dated Feb. 26, 1921. The notes are to be issued in renewal of notes issued Aug. 4 and Aug. 24, 1920.

TWO DIE IN HOTEL FIRE.
Grandview, Tex., Feb. 14.—James R. McDonnell, 47, and Paul Lockhart, 18, were killed in a fire in the Commercial hotel here early today. Forty other persons had narrow escapes. The loss was about $20,000.

DANIELS URGES FEDERAL OWNED RADIO "TRUST"

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—[Special.]—Secretary Daniels, in a letter to Senator Page, chairman of the naval affairs committee, today asks congress for government ownership of commercial radio stations in the United States. He hinted combinations between cable and radio companies would be inimicable to public interests.

"I am fully aware," Secretary Daniels wrote, "of the opposition that exists to government ownership of public utilities, but I think that careful consideration of the subject will convince you and your committee that if there is one thing in which there should be monopoly it is monopoly of the air, and that this monopoly should not be given over to private interests."

"The experience we had before our declaration of war and voluminous evidence that we subsequently obtained showed conclusively that high power radio stations within our borders had been constantly engaged in the transmission of unneutral messages."

$1,500,000 CON GANG MAN MAY BE EXTRADITED

Neal McDougall, identified as one of a $1,500,000 gang of confidence men of Atlanta, Ga., and called a "tango tango," will be taken before Judge Hugh R. Stewart of the South Clark street court today.

An effort will be made to take McDougall back to Atlanta at once, so that he can corroborate the confessions of some of the witnesses and men under arrest there. It is believed that indictments of two lieutenants of police and a score of politicians and others will follow the testimony of McDougall in Atlanta.

It developed yesterday that four Chicago men were victims of the Floyd Woodward gang that operated in Atlanta. Solicitor General John Boykin, however, has refused to make their names public.

SLEEPING SICKNESS DEATH.
Sioux City, Ia., Feb. 14.—[Special.]—George Emmet Davis, 8, is dead from the effects of sleeping sickness. He was first attacked last Tuesday and never roused from his stupor.

EX-HUSBAND SAYS APHASIA VICTIM FAKES TO GET BOY

"Did the yearning of a mother for her child prompt Mrs. Estelle Foetisch to feign lapses of memory as a ruse to regain possession of her 4 year old son?"

John C. Udrowski, former husband of the woman who lies in the South Shore hospital, apparently a victim of aphasia, charged last night that she is "faking." He was awarded custody of the boy in divorce proceedings.

"She is just trying to get the boy," he said. "I took Vincent to see her last night. She was rational enough so far as he was concerned. She begged me to let him stay all night. I refused. I am going to take him where she will never see him again."

Dr. Herman Bindsen, who is attending Mrs. Foetisch, reiterated his belief that fear that the boy would be taken where she could not see him may have caused aphasia. Carl Foetisch, her present husband, is inclined to the same belief.

CARSON PIRIE SCOTT & Co

To Our Patrons

In compliance with the instructions received from Dr. John Dill Robertson, Commissioner of Health, on and after February 15, 1921, we must decline to accept for return or exchange—

Druggists' Sundries—such as rubber goods, brushes, combs, cosmetics and soaps of all kinds.

Men's, Women's and Children's Hosiery and Underwear of all kinds.

Sanitary Couches and Bedding of all kinds.

Toys, Dolls and Baby Carriages.

Night-Dresses and Pajamas.

Women's Neckwear and Veilings.

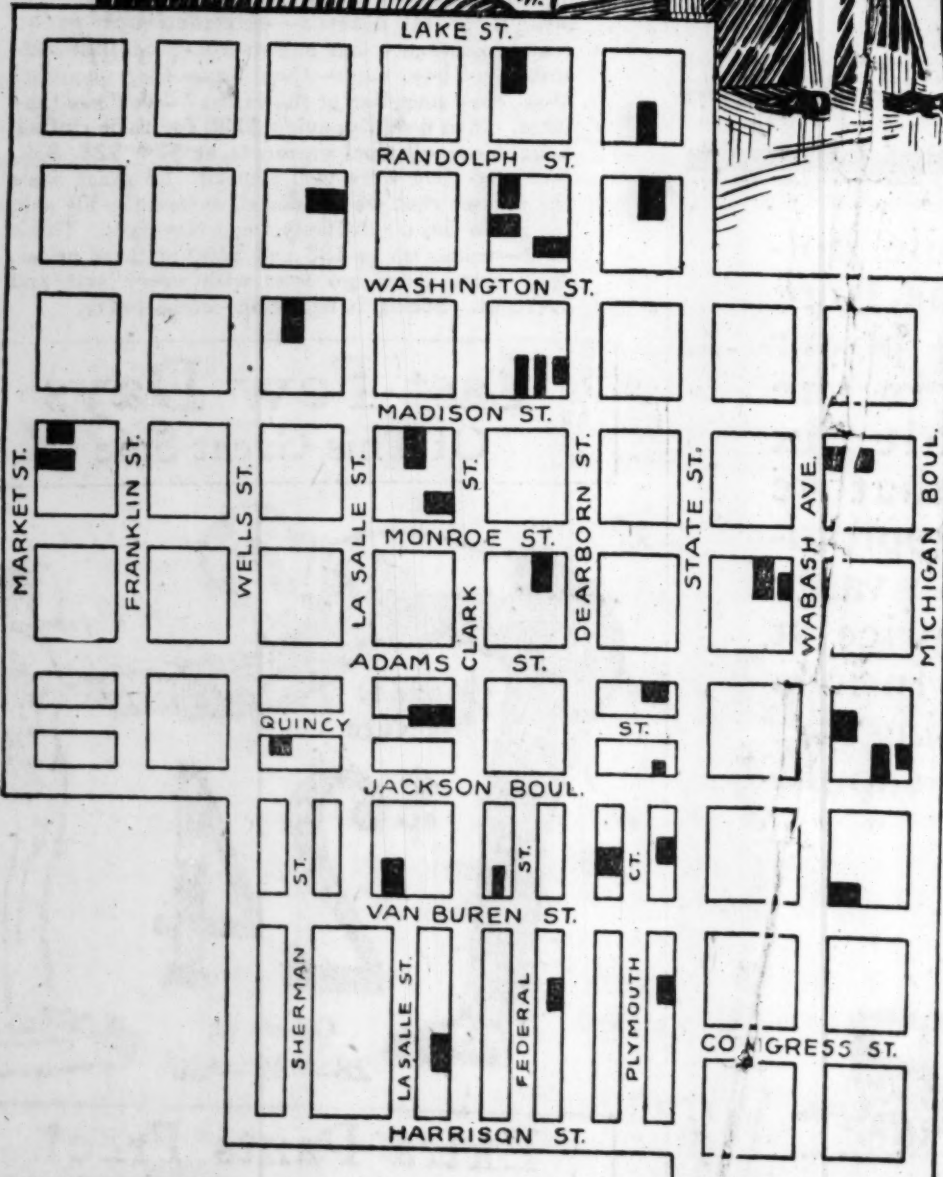

Exceptions in the above mentioned groups will be made only when merchandise shows defects, or when the wrong size or color has been selected. In the latter case, such goods, if in a salable and thoroughly sanitary condition, will be accepted for return or exchange when returned within a reasonable length of time.

No article of outer wearing apparel which shows any evidence of wear will be accepted for return or exchange.

We ask our patrons to make their selections with great care, to bring children to the Store to be fitted, and to take such action as may be necessary to minimize the return of all kinds of merchandise.

We are confident that, owing to the importance of this matter, our patrons will co-operate with us in helping to maintain Chicago as the healthiest city in the world.

New Spring Hats

Arrive From Paris

Hats originated in the world-famous ateliers of Paris, and personally selected for this French Shop.

One sees in these hats the art with which the master-designers adapt the charm of other lands and other times to present-day modes.

Here are hats with the quaint appeal of the Directoire, hats of Spanish origin with cascading laces, winged tricornes with an almost military air, swathed turbans in Oriental lines.

Pictured is a black lace hat from Lewis. Represented among other French hats are modes from Evelyn Varon, Marie Louise, Cora Marson and Yvonne. U. U. U. U. U.

GIVE LIVING COST CUT TO JUSTIFY RAIL PAY SLASH

Roads Take New Tack at U. S. Wage Hearing.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.

Reduced living costs and wage cuts in other industries were trumpeted yesterday before the railway labor board as new basic arguments in the case of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic line, which is asking permission to trim away from its wage schedule 50 per cent of the sum of all wage increases effective since Dec. 31, 1917, as regarded an important test case.

Takes Up New Factors.

Now the road has taken up factors such as cost of living and wages in kind industries which the law specifies shall be considered in determining whether wages are "just and reasonable."

Halts Wage Cut by Erie.

The board refused the motion of the unions to throw the dispute out of court and held that each side should be allowed to present its case in its own way.

Meanwhile the board ordered the Erie railroad to withdraw its notice of wage reduction.

The board ruled that the unions' demand for a 50 per cent wage cut was not justified.

JUST LIKE DAD

Famous Poet's Daughter Who Pens Verse and Novel at Age of 12.

MARCIA MASTERS.

It's easy to write poetry. At least Marcia Masters, 12 years old, daughter of Edgar Lee Masters, author of the Spoon River Anthology, "Milk and Honey," and the "Doomsday Book," thinks so. She has been writing poetry ever since she began to write legibly. Her latest poem is titled "God." "The Rose," "My Dear Mother," "Here is one of the latest," "October."

O, bright October weather
And goldenrod so rare,
Bees are making honey,
The milkweed's everywhere.

Cowslips in the meadow,
Thistles in the road,
The oriole is singing,
The fields are being mowed.

Sparkling lakes and rivers,
Dew-filled flowers rare,
Sunny lanes and meadows,
Happiest everywhere.

Little Miss Masters also has written a book of more than a hundred pages, entitled "The Small Town Hero." It has a hero, a heroine, a villainess, "a everything." Miss Masters is in the seventh grade at the Kenwood school. She likes to write, but says she can't write only when she is "in the mood." Her sister, Madeline, is an artist and draws as well as Marcia writes.

BRIDES' SCHOOL TO TAKE GAMBLE OUT OF MARRIAGE

Every "Grad" a Jewel, from Food to Talk.

By GENEVIEVE FORBES.

O, man! They've opened a school for brides! The June crop promises to be not only more bountiful but of higher grade than ever before!

O, girls! If the question's been popped and answered correctly, here's your golden opportunity to study how to become a helpmeet 100 per cent efficient; to learn the chat that will keep your clear of the divorce courts.

The college for brides opened yesterday at St. Valentine's day—at the west side branch of the Young Women's Christian association, 101 South Ashland avenue. Its curriculum is called a course in "trousseau suggestions and home management," but that's only camouflage. It should be: "Practical methods of holding a husband and keeping him happy."

Even Miss Enid Aubrey, educational director, in charge of the work, admitted that the course is designed to help the bride to keep her husband home nights.

Study No. 1—Cooking.

First of all wife-to-be will be taught the old familiar road to hubby's heart—mastering a variety of means and learning attractive methods of serving meals.

Secondly, she will be guided past the reefs of extravagance—one of the leading causes of divorce—by being instructed in how to make a family budget, how to buy wisely, and how to bring home the "bacon" with the highest caloric content.

Thirdly, she will be taught to look like the girl on the magazine cover when hubby sees her across the breakfast table. A course in home beauty does wonders! She will be taught to make all manner of attractive dresses, scarves, blouses, and lingerie without need of straining hubby's pocketbook.

Do They Really Need This?

But wait! Here's the punch! Should the male still be restless, Friend Wife may still him into contentment with her chummy conversation. She is to be taught the art of conversation and story telling, not to mention better English.

And she also will have at her command a course in home nursing that is a sure winner.

The course ends on May 28, giving the graduate ample time to trade her diploma for a marriage certificate.

ROBBERS, IN TRAP, SHOOT WOMAN, RAM TAXI; FLEE

Mother Shielding Child Is Hit by Bullet.

After ramming the car of a taxi driver who attempted to capture them, pouring several bullets into his machine and wounding a woman bystander, two hold-up men escaped.

Sam Levin, a taxi driver, had just stopped his car at the street intersection, leaving his engine running, when another machine containing the two men drove up. Levin noticed the license number on the car was 25-600, the same as that on a car of another make that had been used by two men who robbed him last Thursday. He at once recognized the men as those who had robbed him.

SYLVIA SHERIN.

McGrath of the Lawndale station. One robber, it is believed, was wounded. The woman who was shot is Mrs. Anna Sherin of 1838 South Spaulding avenue. She was struck in the right elbow by a bullet while she was shielding her 4 year old daughter, Sylvia, in a doorway in which she had sought shelter.

Stepping on the gas, he shot his taxi cab forward and attempted to block the path of the other car. After maneuvering for a short distance in an effort to pass the taxi, the driver of the robber car slowed up, turned around and drove at high speed straight at the cab, striking it broadside.

Attracted by the crash, McGrath came running. Seeing him, one of the holdup men drew his revolver and opened fire on Levin.

Pedestrians scurried for shelter as the bullets ricocheted from the paving. Mrs. Sherin, who was on her way to a grocery, dragged her daughter into a doorway and was holding her arms about the child when a bullet struck her.

McGrath began shouting, but by this time the driver of the robber car had backed up and was driving off at high speed.

One of Bandits Hit.

McGrath ran after the car, sending several bullets through the windows as one of the men emptied another gun point blank at him, using the back of the seat as a rest for the weapon. The car turned north in Sawyer avenue as one of the men was seen to slouch forward in his seat.

Mrs. Sherin was taken to St. Anthony's hospital and later to her home. "I'm positive they were the men who robbed me, and I know the license number is the same," Levin told the police, but they were driving a car of different make the night of the holdup.

DIVORCE COURT JUDGE, RETIRING, URGES NEW LAWS

On the eve of his retirement from the divorce branch of the Circuit court Judge George Fred Rush announced that the hearing of 2,000 cases had convinced him Illinois needs a more stringent divorce law.

"I am in favor of the abolition of the restriction which prohibits remarriage of divorced couples for one year," he stated yesterday, "but I'm also an advocate of the passage of a more drastic restriction to take its place."

"The new law should prohibit judges from granting a divorce decree when the expiration of twelve months after the hearing of the evidence. Any one who married during the year in which the suit was pending would then be guilty of bigamy, and could be punished accordingly."

"The legislators should understand," he said, "that these second marriages amount to nothing less than trial marriages, and that upon either of the couple growing dissatisfied it must be annulled by the courts, without the offenders being liable to punishment."

Judge Rush advocates a law making insanity a valid cause for divorce. Two things, he said, were largely responsible for the steady increase in marital failures—childless marriages and the ability of women to support themselves by their own efforts.

TALK SICK' GIRL SLEEPS IN JOY OVER VALENTINE

Gets Longest Rest in 236 Hours' Chatter.

Maybe it was the valentine she received from her 9 year old "sweet heart," or maybe it was the adjustment of two partially dislocated vertebrae in her neck.

Anyway, Miriam Rubin, 8 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Rubin of Waukegan, last night obtained the longest respite from her 236 hour talk that she has enjoyed since she was stricken with the strange malady on Feb. 5.

She slept from 4:30 in the afternoon until 7 at night, sixty minutes longer than any of the three previous snoozes she has had since the "talking sickness" attacked her.

She slept for an hour and a half Sunday morning and again for nearly an hour Sunday night. Yesterday she surprised the physicians by taking another nap for half an hour before noon.

But at the end of the thirty minutes she was chattering away at as high speed as before.

Amused by Tribune "Funnies."

She amused herself by looking at the comic section of THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE, babbling away and laughing at "The Gumps" and "Mutt and Jeff." Then Dr. Paul Berger again treated the two vertebrae, which he said evidently had been partially dislocated by a fall in early childhood.

The trouble, he said, did not manifest itself until she started taking dancing lessons, which necessitated throwing her head back vigorously, increasing the pressure upon her spinal nerves.

Immediately after the treatment her temperature fell to 100 degrees, but she continued to talk incessantly. She remembered she had not sent a valentine to her sweetheart, Miss Belle Dorsett, and some of her playmates. Her mother compiled a list of those to whom she wished them sent. Then the postman brought her a handful of valentines, among them one.

Laughs and Blushes.

The little girl laughed delightedly and blushed as she read the sentiment on the card. Neither she nor her mother would reveal the name of the sender and the valentine was signed only "Sweetie." But a few moments later Miriam, with a contented smile, had started on her record nap.

All sorts of "cures" for "talking sickness," ranging from a boat trip to a concert, were recommended in letters received by the family during the day from all parts of the middle west. Several Chicago musicians offered their services free. The violin, cello, and flute were some of the instruments recommended as possessing curative powers. One telegram suggested the playing of children about the bedside as a remedy.

BEG YOUR PARDON

AN editorial in THE TRIBUNE of Feb. 12 said: "Mrs. Marshall Field is coordinating the influence of our best families in support of the city council's efforts to get legalized boxing."

Mrs. Field wishes to have it made clear that the wrestling carnival which she is promoting for charity has no ulterior motive and is not designed to act, as will not act, as a precedent or entering wedge for boxing contests.

THE TRIBUNE of Feb. 13 quoted D. E. Ward, president of the Hyde Park branch of the "Tenants' Protective league, as criticizing C. W. Hoff & Co., because the real estate firm had canceled a contract for use of a hall to be used for a "tenants' meeting."

Ward says the contract was not canceled, but was refused when the agents learned of the nature of the meeting. This allowed time to arrange for the use of a hall at 1449 East Fifty-seventh street, where a meeting will be held tonight.

A cable dispatch from Havana, Cuba, to THE TRIBUNE on Jan. 9, referring to Maj. Gen. Crowder's visit to Cuba in 1919, said the general "put in several months at a job with a large corps of assistants at a cost of $200,000 to Cuba."

Gen. Crowder writes that his expenses in 1919 were paid by the United States government, that his corps of assistants numbered only six including three stenographers, and that so far as he knows his special mission did not cost and has not cost Cuba one cent.

Item in THE TRIBUNE of Feb. 13, announcing initial steps toward construction of a new Masonic temple in the downtown district, named Harry E. Shipley as a member of the committee appointed to plan the raising of funds.

Shipley is a member, wishes it made clear that he was at the meeting as a representative of his bank, not of his lodge, as that lodge is still actively interested in the Memorial Temple association.

Plan Pathfinder Tour.

It is planned to organize a tour of the western right of way as soon as the proper permits. Engineers, members of the Roosevelt Memorial association, high way officials and influential citizens from points along the highway will be invited.

At the meeting yesterday the state was represented by Col. Miller, S. E. Bradt, superintendent of highways; Thomas G. Vennum, assistant director of public works; and Clifford Older, chief engineer. The Roosevelt Memorial association was represented by Frank G. Logan, Jens Jensen, Fredrick W. Perkins, Howard V. D. Shaw, and W. F. Carlson.

Caught Prying Into Booze Room at Evanston Hospital

John H. Ruchsch, 1619 Florence avenue, Evanston, arrested once before in connection with an alleged booze theft, was captured by a watchman yesterday as he was attempting to force an entrance into the supply room of the Evanston hospital. A quantity of whisky was stored in the room.

$250,000 FOR BOYS' HOME.

Comprehensive plans for the raising of $250,000 to aid the Chicago Junior Home and Farm for Boys were made at an informal dinner at the Stevens building restaurant last night. Judge Hugo P. M. is president of the committee. Fifty teams of men and women were organized for the drive.

WOMAN DRIVES AWAY BURGLARS IN KENILWORTH

Six burglars, who had broken into the home of Attorney A. F. Reichmann at 222 Kenilworth avenue, Kenilworth, were frightened away yesterday by Mrs. J. G. Bowman, 414 Warwick avenue, a neighbor of the Reichmanns.

Mrs. Bowman heard the crash of glass and saw the robbers' automobile in front of the Reichmann home. She telephoned the police. The men escaped, but left in such a hurry they were unable to carry off a large quantity of clothing, silverware, and other household goods they had piled up.

Burglars escaped with $2,000 worth of rugs and a brace from the home of Sylvan Newhall, 888 Sheridan road, Glenview.

KIDNAPED IN OWN AUTO; ROBBED AND KICKED OUT

Thomas A. Garibaldi, 3619 Pine Grove avenue, president of Thomas A. Garibaldi & Co., real estate, 105 North Clark street, was kidnapped in his own automobile and robbed by two men last night. The robbers kicked him out after relieving him of $5 and drove away with the automobile. Mr. Garibaldi was just putting his car into the garage at 3818 Broadway when the men covered him with revolvers.

"Come on, hop in," one of them commanded. They drove their victim to Berteau and Campbell avenues.

VOICE ON PHONE CLEW TO MISSING MILLIONAIRE

Tip Directs Smith Search to Rooming House.

A mysterious telephone call to the Waukegan home of Granger Smith, aged millionaire, who disappeared Saturday at State and Thirty-first streets, spurred his friends to renewed efforts to locate the missing man. The call was to the effect that Smith would be found in a certain rooming house on the south side, but whether alive or dead was not divulged by the informant, who refused to give his name.

Smith, who has been under close surveillance since his suit failed twenty years ago, eluded his guards Saturday, aged a ride of a motorist, and escaped when the latter let him out at Thirty-first and State streets. Mrs. Augusta Marselles, his nurse, and Thomas Conell, his chauffeur, had brought Smith to Chicago. He was left alone, while Conell went into a garage at 2310 South Michigan avenue, and escaped.

Known as Eccentric.

In Waukegan Smith was known for his eccentricities. Many years ago he was regarded as one of Waukegan's most sagacious business men, and owned extensive business district property. He became afflicted with melancholia and hallucinations that he had been commanded to end his life.

W. G. Upton, an attorney, was appointed conservator of the estate, received in the millions. Smith lived at that time with Mrs. F. W. C. Perrin, a boarding house keeper. Later she gave up her place, and moved to the thirty-two room home of Smith at 105 Genesee street, and devoted herself to caring for the infirm man.

Mrs. Marselles, some time ago obtained a divorce from J. M. Marselles, Waukegan city clerk, was hired, with the consent of the Lake county court, to act as nurse.

Four Attempts to End Life.

Four times Smith has attempted his life in the last fifteen years. He has slashed his wrists with a razor, tried to shoot himself, attempted drowning in a bathtub, and made an effort to cut his throat. His suicidal mania has led friends to fear he has meant away to a rooming house and killed himself.

Mr. Upton said last night he placed great faith in the telephone tip. He refused to discuss the call, however. A detective was sent to Chicago to act on the information.

Chicago police were puzzled because no one could be found who had seen the old man. His appearance in a neighborhood of Negroes would make him conspicuous, they said. The theory is that he threw himself into the lake or is locked up in a gas filled room in some obscure boarding house.

ORDER LIMITS BOOZE PERMITS TO 5-CASE LOTS

The whisky lid in Chicago was clamped down still tighter yesterday when orders were received from Washington that no more withdrawal permits should be honored by distillers for amounts larger than five case lots. The first ruling allowed wholesalers who had already received permits for large shipments to have the whisky shipped.

Chances for graft in forging dates on withdrawal permits was given as one reason for the new order. In the future the liquor laws will be confined to distillers, wholesale druggists and retail druggists.

Fortified by twenty-four attorneys, the thirty defendants in the "Mike de Piker" $200,000 whisky ring case will appear before Judge Evan A. Evans in the District court today. Sensational developments are expected when witnesses are examined by the government attorneys.

The metamorphosis of Daniel Canavan, street sweeper, to Daniel Canavan, city boss, gives Tom Moore a rôle so different from his usual masterful idol parts that share the girls will hardly know him!

As a street sweeper, now! Humble, cowed, inarticulate—run over when he's at work and walked over when he's at home. The wife of his bosom is that capable heavy-weight, Sylvia Ashton, and her favorite form of greeting for her lord but not her master when he comes in the door at night is a frying pan that never fails to hit the mark—Dan's it—when manipulated by her experienced hands. Can this hen-pecked, humble human be Tom Moore? Yes, wurr, it be!

It continues to be until, having been injured by the high stepping horses of the haughty Miss Newman, Dan loses his nerve. Dread of the traffic drives him to work with a dynamite crew. Here he is humble as of yore until the man who wears the red flag when a blast is about to be exploded gets drunk again. Daniel is commissioned to wave the flag and stop the traffic.

"But suppose they won't stop for me?" he murmurs huskily. Whereat the foreman thunders:
"If they won't, MAKE 'em, ye—something or other, I forget what."

So Daniel goes forth. His brief and sorry brings his latent manhood to the surface. He talks up to the haughty Miss Newman, who again appears drawn by her haughty horses. He gives the foreman a sample of Irish uppercut when the former again calls him by a not endearing term, and, having gotten a "running start," he hurries home and "beats up the old woman," making her thereafter his slave. (Until death does them part through the medium of indignation. Prosperity and unlimited credit at the candy stores prove too much for Mrs. Canavan.)

It falls to the lot of Miss Newman to marry a gentleman who gets mixed up in an insurance scandal. To save her husband from being indicted it is necessary that an appeal be made to Mr. Canavan, who has made the district attorney what he is today and is quite as capable of unmaking him. Hubby is saved. He dies later.

We now have a widow and widower on our hands. They marry. Again Mr.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Nothing is more becoming to the average figure than the simple clove. It is tried out in this afternoon frock of black satin in connection with the long waistline, and the way in which the skirt collar is cut off abruptly forms an interesting experiment. Another band of skunk accounts the short front panel of gray crepe de chine embroidered in black.

Canavan feels a woman's heel upon his neck. "She almost has him buffaloed when memory does Mr. Canavan a good turn. What worked with one woman will work with another. The curtain goes down upon a scene of peaceful domesticity, with Canavan again lord of all he surveys, politically and matrimonially.

A hard boiled egg is Canavan as played by Mr. Moore. Let the new Mrs. Moore see this film and lay some of its lessons to heart. Miss Childers as the haughty Miss Newman is nice. Bertram Grassby makes the kind of husband he's supposed to be, and Miss Ashton is funny and real as wife No. 1. You'll like "Hold Your Horses." It was adapted from a story by Rupert Hughes.

An Informal Greeting.
A girl friend and I rented a room in an apartment. A young man and his mother visited the apartment in the rear.
One night this man stepped in to tell us he was going down town and would be back in a short time, to try out our new phonograph records. After he left we began to play our jazz. The bell rang suddenly, and kept on in a steady ring.
We were afraid the woman with whom we lived would object to the noise, and thinking it was the young man doing it for a joke, I stepped to the landing and shouted down: "Stop that, you poor fish! Take your finger off the bell!"
A woman and man appeared on the stairs, and she explained that they had come to see the woman with whom we lived, and said that when they rang the bell the button caught in the socket, causing the steady ring. C. E.

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Brown Gravy.

Gallons of brown gravy are served every day in cafeterias and such places. There are people who continue to think that this is a pan gravy. It never saw a roast of beef. One has to be an expert roaster to get as handsome a gravy as can be made of a meat stock which has been cooked twelve hours, until it will jelly when cold.
After the fat has been removed and it has been heated up and strained, it can then be boiled down somewhat to give it increased body, but it is the jellying quality in it that makes even a pan gravy made of it smoother and more velvety than one with water.

One meat shank and one veal knuckle, each free of meat, covered with from a pint to a quart of water per pound, with a little salt, are the ingredients required. Bring to boil slowly and skim, then simmer twelve hours, and cool rapidly. All soup stocks should be cooled rapidly. If left tepid for any length of time they become unsafe eating.

For the gravy this stock and some browned flour and some browned butter are needed, and the production of each is a nice task. Good and constant stirring while the article is browning is needed. For the flour take a small dry frying pan with a thick bottom, stir the flour constantly in it over a hot fire, until the pan when there is any chance of its burning. There is science in lifting such things at the right moment. In browning flour gives off a parched corn odor, and if not burned has a highly agreeable flavoring power. Butter becomes sweet of flavor.

For gravy blend equal measures of browned flour and browned butter, add the stock, and stir till thick. It should not have a strong taste, but if it does have add a bit of sugar to help. For a thin gravy one tablespoon each of butter and flour and one cup of stock are the proportions.

DORIS BLAKE'S ANSWERS

Let Her Reflect.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a young man of twenty and have been keeping steady company with a girl of eighteen for two years. We love each other, as was often proved in the last two years, but lately she has become cross when I speak to her, for no reason at all. Can you tell me if her love is growing cold? "Perplexed."
It sounds that way, doesn't it—Perplexed? The best kind of treatment for us women when we get cross spells is to let us alone and give us time enough to reflect on just how disagreeable we can be.

IN CONSTANTINOPLE

Most of the restaurants are mere food stalls open to the street.
At these stalls the Turks buy their luncheon, then squat on the sidewalk and eat.
Travelers say that the food is rather good, but the squatting spoils their appetite.
Especially after having enjoyed the comforts of the clean, attractive dining rooms at CHILDS.

Corned beef hash, deliciously browned in butter and served with a freshly poached egg.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by the thousands. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and getting rid of the entire system of poisons. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.
All the benefits of castor oil, without the griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.
Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night before bed and note the effect. 15c and 25c.

NEW SECURITIES
TEND TO STEADY
MARKET DEMAND

BY O. A. MATHER.

The strength of the investment demand for new high grade fixed income securities is shown by announcement of several large issues yesterday. To-day an issue of $10,000,000 Deere & Co. ten year 7 1/2 per cent gold notes will be offered for public subscription at 99 and interest, yielding about 7.65 per cent, by a syndicate headed by the Guaranty Trust company and the Central Trust company of Illinois. A sinking fund will retire more than half of the issue before maturity. Another foreign issue also will be offered tomorrow, an issue of $24,000,000 Mexican government twenty year 8 per cent bonds. The American banking houses which negotiated this loan, and which heads the offering, is composed of J. P. Morgan & Co., Kuhn, Loeb & Co., National City company, the Guaranty Trust company, Harris, Forbes & Co., and First National bank of Boston. The bonds will be offered at a price to yield slightly more than 8 per cent.

Havana Bonds Sell at Par.
Yesterday an issue of $4,000,000 United States of Havana fifteen year 7 1/2 per cent equipment trust gold certificates was oversold shortly after the public offering was made. The price was yielding about 7 1/2 per cent. In an issue of $2,000,000 military district of Chicago five year serial bonds was received, the offering price being 98 and interest.

Another issue of $2,500,000 Mid-Continent company first mortgage 8 per cent serial sinking fund gold bonds was offered at prices to yield 8 1/2 per cent. In an issue of $8,000,000 Pennsylvania power and light company first and second mortgage 7 per cent bonds was offered at 98 and interest, yielding about 8 per cent. All of these issues were offered by the syndicates composed of New York and Chicago banking institutions.

Colombia Coal Men Get Aid.
The financial difficulties of Colombia, which reached a crisis during the latter part of 1920 and caused suspension of payment by five large New York companies engaged in the Colombian coal trade, has resulted in the formation of a strong syndicate of New York banks and bankers to aid these merchants in liquidating their indebtedness. The syndicate will be known as the "Colombian acceptance agreement of Jan. 1921." It will finance shipments of coal to this country, centralizing the shipments to the New York merchants whom the Colombian shippers are debtors. This will help the Colombian shippers to liquidate their obligations to them, and in turn will allow the merchants to meet their own commitments.

A new corporation, to be known as the International Acceptance bank, Inc., will be for business in New York, according to Paul M. Warburg, New York banker, who has been chosen chairman of the board of directors. The bank, it was explained, will devote itself primarily to financing American foreign commerce and world trade.

FROM Elkhart, Ind.; Waverly, Ia.; Escanaba, Mich., and other points come letters saying that photographs have been sent to the $20,000 beauty contest, but that they have not yet appeared in THE TRIBUNE.

The writers should not lose heart. Photographs of contestants will be published in THE TRIBUNE daily and in the rotogravure section on Sunday until the close of the contest. The contest does not close until Saturday, April 9.

"Our town can boast of several real beauties," continues the letter from Waverly, "and we would be proud if the judges saw fit to make one of our girls a prize winner."

The local pride being taken by cities throughout the central west is what is lending zest to the contest.

The sixty most beautiful girls found in the central west will share $20,000. Of this amount, $10,000 will be awarded as a grand prize to the most beautiful girl in the section. In addition, ten prizes will be distributed in each of the six territorial divisions—the city of Chicago, the state of Illinois outside Chicago, the state of Indiana, the state of Iowa, the state of Michigan, and the state of Wisconsin.

The first prize in each of the divisions will be $1,000, the second $250, the third $100, and the remaining seven $50 each.

The grand prize winner will receive not only $10,000 in cash but one of the sixty territorial prizes.

The contest is free. There is no charge of any kind. It is open to every girl, unmarried or a widow, who resides anywhere in the five states, except professional beauties.

Select a photograph of yourself or some girl friend and write plainly on the back of it the name, street address, and occupation of the entrant. If the girl has no occupation and is staying at home, state that she is a "home girl." If she is going to school or college, say "student."

Send the photograph to "Beauty Contest," CHICAGO TRIBUNE, 7 N. Dearborn street, Chicago.

Photographs will not be returned unless accompanied by a stamped self-addressed envelope of proper size.

Three celebrated artists from the Art Institute of Chicago will act as judges.

A. M. B. says that the girl whose picture he is sending is "the best little girl you or I ever laid eyes on."

He has made no delay about getting the photograph into the contest. Have you sent in a photograph?

Money, Mater

Now let us take for building construction. Money, materials, in three points of nearly two years of these three factors.

Money? The material building trades men refusal of the banks in sufficient amounts rates has halted building. The banks so they could not get money of their deposits, while the men have charged materials has resulted in labor. The material exorbitant in suit both of high wages, have stopped building.

All this has led to a condemned and blamed. Let us see why.

"Let's see where every one has been so let's have a sympathetic statement of foremost bankers. 'I'll do—and I think other bankers. The for exorbitant loan contractor show me buildings at 25 per cent—and I'll accept say, three competitor I'll lend him money 1 per cent commission records and I'll rate average not low and 2 per cent comm per cent rate means cent increase.

"I'll loan a million terms—and my bank to carry it, because small demand for rents. Will the labor meet these terms?

Material Men

Next comes the cost of production. "It isn't feasible to enter into a contract addition to the actual building; plans, material supplies, a dozen other things."

"Let me say that essential that has been quoted now at cost of production men and the plumbers may cut price. Then labor should be below the present $1 let the bankers lend talking about profits, putting on a job while enjoying a fat other directions. The financing of the Stand as."

Finally, what has I'm willing to do to get building started one of the best. "We have met with a who have do schedules should be even made a tentative we would lower wages above pre-war would lower material knows that building would the material situation? If we will say, 50 per cent above, will they reduce the same percentage, then that's all. Ask Which of the three angle present the fa

Floor Lamp Bases

In a Special Sale at $7.50 to $22.50

A most interesting collection. Just one hundred and twenty-five sample lamp bases, no two alike. For every type of room there is in this sale that lamp base best suited to it. Only a purchase of the most unusual sort could bring such values. Included in this sale

There Are Full Size and Junior Lamp Bases in Dull Mahogany, Powdered Silver, Dull Gold and Antique Italian Finishes.

Every detail of workmanship and design identifies these bases as being of a type decidedly fine. And there are many little niceties characteristic of lamp bases usually higher priced.

In View of the Limited Quantity, Early Selection Is Urged.

MARCH VANITY FAIR

From the portrait of Claude Monet, immersed in retrospective calm on the frontispiece, to the prose-poems about motors and derby hats in the advertising section—this issue of Vanity Fair is amusing, decorative and extraordinarily well-informed. And, not only this issue, but every issue of Vanity Fair will keep you au courant with every movement in Art and Letters, every outstanding figure in the drama, in opera, or on the screen. For, as most men know, beside its other unusual qualities, Vanity Fair is a remarkably useful magazine.

IN THIS ISSUE

HEYWOOD BROWN, Hugh Walpole, Sherwood Anderson, Grantland Rice, St. John Irvine and others contribute unusual articles, reviews and appreciations. Full page portraits of Marilyn Miller, Lionel Atwill and other celebrities of the stage and screen. A page of our slickest young movie actors, pages of satirical drawings, and variegated sketches, photographs and comment on Art, Literature, The Theatre and The World-at-Large.

THOMAS BURKE contributes another of his famous Linthouse sketches and Edmund Wilson, Jr., pipes up loud and clear for "Things I Consider Underrated." New lodgers occupy Vanity Fair's Hall of Fame, Arthur Symonds writes of French music halls and Zoe Akins contributes a page of assorted lyrics. Then, just to round out one of the best issues of the year, there are over twenty of the newest cars, the bridge refuge and four pages of clothes for the Well Dressed Man.

Jiffy-Pie

Real Lemon Pie—or Chocolate

All the ingredients come in the package. Simply add water, cook a little, and fill your pie.

Lemon Pie contains the sugar, egg yolk, powdered milk, corn starch and tapioca. The lemon essence—derived from lemon peel—comes in a bottle.

In a quick, easy way it makes the most delicious lemon pie. Use for pudding and cake filling too. So with Jiffy Chocolate Pie.

You will never make these pies in the old slow way when you once try Jiffy-Pie. Ask your grocer.
